This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LAWS OF LAWN TENNIS.

THE COURT.

1. The Court is 78 feet long and 27 feet wide. It is divided across the middle by a net, the ends of which are attached to two posts, A and B, standing 3 feet outside of the court on either side. The height of the net is 3 feet 6 inches at the posts, and 3 feet in the middle. At each end of the court, parallel with the net, and 39 feet from it, are drawn the base lines D E and F G, the ends of which are connected by the side lines D F and E G. Halfway between the side lines, and parallel with them, is drawn the half court line I H, dividing the space on each side of the net into two equal parts, the right and left courts. On each side of the net, at a distance of 21 feet from it, and parallel with it, are drawn the service lines K L and M N.

See back pages of Guide for diagram of single and double court.

THE BALLS.

2. The Balls shall measure not less than 2½ inches, nor more than 2 9-16 inches in diameter; and shall weigh not less than 1 15-16 ounces, nor more than 2 ounces.

THE GAME.

3. The choice of sides, and the right to serve in the first game, shall be decided by toss; provided that, if the winner of the toss choose the right to serve, the other player shall have choice of sides, and vice versa, or the winner of the toss may insist upon a choice by his opponent. If one player choose the court, the other may elect not to serve.

4. The players shall stand on opposite sides of the net; the palyer who first delivers the ball shall be called the server, and the other the striker-out.

5. At the end of the first game the striker-out shall become server, and the server shall become striker-out; and so on alternately in all the subsequent games of the set and following sets.

FOOT FAULT RULE.

LAW 6. The server shall before commencing to serve stand with both feet at rest behind (i.e., further from the net than) the base-line and within the limits of the imaginary continuation of the half-court and side-lines, and thereafter the server shall not run, walk, hop or jump before the service has been delivered, but the server may raise one foot from (and, if desired, replace it on) the ground, provided that both feet are kept behind the base line until the service has been delivered.

Official Interpretation of law 6. If a foot be lifted and replaced, there must be no change of position that can possibly be considered a step.

LAW 7.—The service shall be delivered from the right and left courts alternately, beginning from the right in every game, even though odds be given or owed, and the ball served shall drop within the service-line, half court-line and side-line of the court which is diagonally opposite to that from which it was served or upon any such line.

LAW 8.—It is a fault if the server commit any breach of Law 7, or if the service be delivered from the wrong court, or if the ball served drop in the net or beyond the service line, or if it drop out of court or in the wrong court. If the server in attempting to serve, miss the ball altogether, it does not count a fault; but if the ball be touched, no matter how slightly, by the racket, a service is thereby delivered, and the laws governing the service at once apply.

8. It is a Fault if the ball served drop in the net, or beyond the service line, or out of court, or in the wrong court; or if the server do not stand as directed by law 6. If the server, in attempting to serve, miss the ball altogether, it does not count a fault, but if the ball be touched, no matter how slightly, by the racket, a service is thereby delivered, and the laws governing the service at once apply.

9. A fault cannot be taken.

10. After a fault the server shall serve again from the same court from which he served that fault, unless it was a fault because he served from the wrong court.

11. A fault cannot be claimed after the next service is delivered.

12. The server shall not serve till the striker-out is ready. If the latter attempt to return the service, he shall be deemed ready.

13. A service or fault delivered when the striker-out is not ready counts for nothing.

14. The service shall not be volleyed, that is, taken, before it has touched the ground.

15. A ball is in play on leaving the server's racket, except as provided for in law 8, and remains in play till the stroke is decided.

16. It is a good return, although the ball touch the net; but a service, otherwise good, which touches the net shall count for nothing.

17. The server wins a stroke if the striker-out volley the service, or if he fail to return the service or the ball in play; or if he return the service or the ball in play so that it drops outside of his opponent's court; or if he otherwise lose a stroke, as provided by law 20.

18. The striker-out wins a stroke if the server serve two consecutive faults; or if he fail to return the ball in play; or if he return the ball in play so that it drops outside of his opponent's court; or if he otherwise lose a stroke as provided by law 20.

19. A ball falling on a line is regarded as falling in the court bounded by that line.

20. Either player loses a stroke if the ball touch him, or anything that he wears or carries, except his racket in the act of striking; or if he touch the ball with his racket more than once; or if he touch the net or any of its supports while the ball is in play; or if he volley the ball before it has passed the net.

21. In case a player is obstructed by any accident, not within his control, the ball shall be considered a "let." But when a permanent fixture of the court is the cause of the accident, the point shall be counted. The benches and chairs placed around the court shall be considered permanent fixtures. If, however, a ball in play strike a permanent fixture of the court (other than the net or posts) before it touches the ground, the point is lost; if after it has touched the ground, the point shall be counted.

22. On either player winning his first stroke, the score is called 15 for that player; on either player winning his second stroke, the score is called 30 for that player; on either player winning his third stroke, the score is called 40 for that player; and the fourth stroke won by either player is scored game for that player, except as below. If both players have won three strokes, the score is called deuce; and the next stroke won by either player is scored advantage for that player. If the same player win the next stroke, he wins the game; if he lose the next stroke the score returns to deuce, and so on until one player wins the two strokes immediately following the score of deuce, when game is scored for that player.

23. The player who first wins six games wins the set; except as below: If both players win five games the score is called games all; and the next game won by either player is scored advantage game for that player. If the same player win the next game, he wins the set; if he lose the next game, the score returns to games all; and so on, until either player wins the two games immediately following the score of games all, when he wins the set. But the committee having charge of any tournament may in their discretion modify this rule by the omission of advantage sets.

24. The players shall change sides at the end of the first, third and every subsequent alternate game of each set and at the end of each set, unless the number of games in such set be even. It shall, however, be open to the players by mutual consent and notification to the umpire before the opening of the second game of the match to change sides instead at the end of every set until the odd and concluding set, in which they shall change sides at the end of the first, third and every subsequent alternate game of such set.

* 25. In all contests the play shall be continuous from the first service till the match be concluded; provided, however, that at the end of the third set either player is entitled to a rest, which shall not exceed seven minutes; and provided, further, that in case of an unavoidable accident, not within the control of the contestants, a cessation of play which shall not exceed two minutes may be allowed between points; but this proviso shall be strictly construed, and the privilege never granted for the purpose of allowing a player to recover his strength or wind. The referee in his discretion may at any time postpone the match on account of darkness or condition of the ground or weather. In any case of postponement, the previous score shall hold good. Where the play has ceased for more than an hour, the player who at the cessation thereof

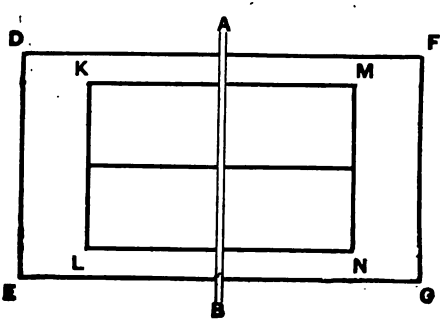
*All matches in which women take part in tournaments held under the auspices of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association shall be the best two in three sets, with a rest not exceeding seven minutes after the second set.

was in the court first chosen shall have the choice of courts on the recommencement of play. He shall stay in the court he chooses for the remainder of the set. The last two sentences of this rule do not apply when the players change every alternate game as provided by law 24.

26. If a player serve out of his turn, the umpire, as soon as the mistake is discovered, shall direct the player to serve who ought to have served. But all strokes scored before such discovery shall be counted. If a game shall have been completed before such discovery, then the service in the next alternate game shall be delivered by the player who did not serve out of his turn, and so on in regular rotation.

27. The above laws shall apply to the three-handed and four-handed games, except as below:—

THE THREE-HANDED AND FOUR-HANDED GAMES.



28. For the three-handed and four-handed games the court shall be 36 feet in width; 4½ feet inside the side lines, and parallel with them, are drawn the service side lines K M and L N. The service lines are not drawn beyond the point at which they meet the service side lines, as shown in the diagram.

29. In the three-handed game, the single player shall serve in every alternate game.

30. In the four-handed game, the pair who have the right to serve in the first game shall decide which partner shall do so; and the opposing pair shall decide in like manner for the second game. The partner of the player who served in the first game shall serve in the third, and the partner of the player who served in the second game shall serve in the fourth, and the same order shall be maintained in all the subsequent games of the set.

31. At the beginning of the next set, either partner of the pair which struck out in the last game of the last set may serve; and the same privilege is given to their opponents in second game of the new set.

32. The players shall take the service alternately throughout the game; a player cannot receive a service delivered to his partner; and the order of service and striking out once established shall not be altered, nor shall the striker-out change cousts to receive the service, till the end of the set.

33. It is a fault if the ball served do not drop between the service line, half-court line, and service side line of the court, diagonally opposite to that from which it was served.

34. It is a fault if the ball served do not drop as provided in law 35, or if it touch the server's partner or anything he wears or carries.

2.—The Officers of the Club holding the Tournament shall have full power over all details concerning said Tournament, but shall be entitled to delegate their power to a Committee. 9.—It is the duty of an Umpire—

(a) To ascertain that the net is at the right height before the commencement of play, and to measure and adjust the net during play, if asked to do so, or if, in his opinion, its height has altered.

(b) To call the faults (subject to Regulation 10) and lets unless he delegates such power.

(c) To call the strokes when won, or when he is asked to call them, and to record them upon the Umpire's scoring sheet.

(d) To call the games and the sets at the end of each,

* Example:

The strokes are scored by means of pencil marks in the spaces beneath the word "STROKES," thus:

Game.	Initials of Players.	STROKES.																				Game won by
1	A. B.	1	1		1		1
	C. D.			1		1
2	C. D.		1		1	1		1			1	1	1
	A. B.	1		1			1		1	1

The Scoring Sheet shows that in the first game the score ran, and would have been called, thus: — "15—love, 30—love, 30—15, 40—15, 40—30, game (A.B.)" In the second game: "Love—15, 15 all, 15—30, 30 all, 40—30, deuce, advantage (C.D.), deuce, advantage (A.B.), deuce, advantage (C.D.), game (C.D.)"

The score of the Server should be called first.

or when asked to call them, and to record them on the Umpire's scoring sheet.

NOTE—At the end of each game the games should be called with the name of the player who is in advance, thus: "2 games to 1, B wins" or, "B leads." If the games are level the score should be called thus, "three games all," or as the case may be. At the end of each set the sets should be called in like manner.

(e) To direct the Competitors to change sides, in accordance with Law 24.

In scoring handicap matches, the odds received should be marked by crosses on the right of the first perpendicular thick line before the commencement of each game, thus:

Game.	Initials of Players.	STROKES.	Game won by
	C. D.

10.—It is the duty of the Linesman to call faults and to decide strokes relating to the line or lines to which he is assigned and to said line or lines only, and such decision shall be final. Should the Linesman be unable to give a decision, the Umpire shall decide or shall direct the stroke to be played again.

11. The decision of an Umpire shall be final upon every question of fact, and no competitor may appeal from it; but if an Umpire be in doubt as to a point of law, or if a competitor appeal against his decision on such a point, the Umpire shall submit it to the Referee whose decision shall be final.

NOTE—A question of fact relates to events that actually happened. A question of law is the construction and application of the laws of the game to the admitted facts.

12. The Referee shall not bet on a match nor shall an Umpire or Linesman on the match to which he is assigned. An infraction of this rule shall be followed by the immediate removal of the offending Referee, Umpire or Linesman on the complaint of any competitor.

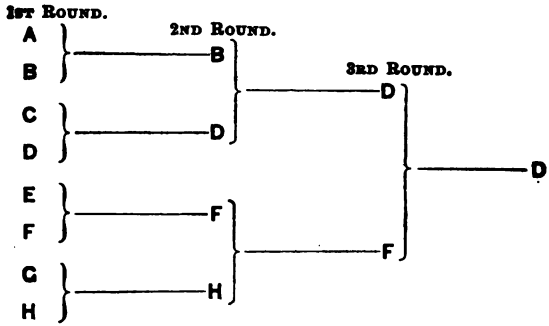
13. No Competitor may transfer his entry to another player.

14.—Competitors shall have a right, by themselves or their deputies, to be present at the draw.

15.—The draw shall be conducted in the following manner: Each Competitor's name shall be written on a separate card or paper, and these shall be placed in a bowl or hat, drawn out one by one at random, and copied on a list in the order in which they have been drawn.*

16.—When the number of Competitors is 4, 8, 16, 32, 64, or any higher power of 2, they shall meet in pairs, in accordance with the system shown by the following diagram:

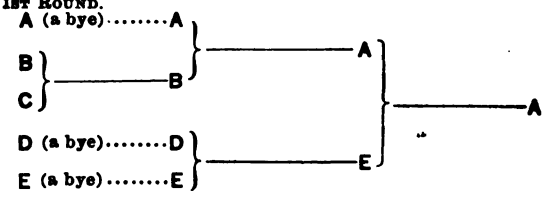
* Except that in Intercollegiate and Interscholastic matches the draw shall be arranged to prevent members of the same school or college from meeting each other in the first and second rounds, the draw in other ways being arranged absolutely by chance.



17.—When the number of Competitors is not a power of 2, there shall be byes in the first round. The number of byes shall be equal to the difference between the number of Competitors and the next higher power of 2, and the number of pairs that shall meet in the first round shall be equal to the difference between the number of Competitors and the next lower power of 2. The byes, if even in number, shall be divided, as the names are drawn, in equal proportions at the top and bottom of the list, above and below the pairs. If uneven in number, there shall be one more bye at the bottom than at the top. Thus—

SERIES 1.

From 5 to 8 Competitors.



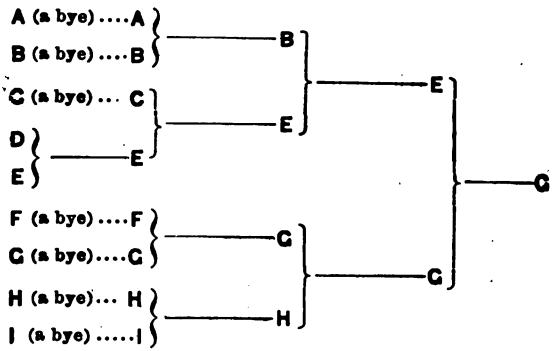
With 6, there will be one bye at the top, and 1 bye at the bottom. With 7, 1 bye at the bottom. With 8, no byes.

SERIES 2.

From 9 to 16 Competitors.

With 9, 8 byes at the top, and 4 byes at the bottom.

1ST ROUND.

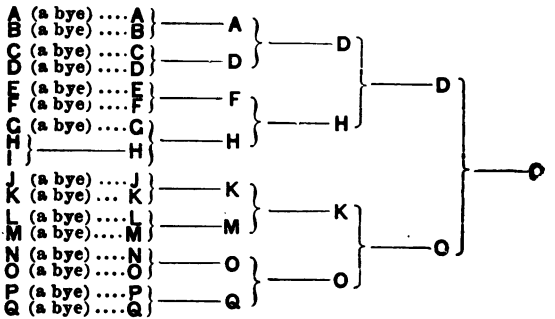


With 10, 3 byes at the top, and 3 at the bottom.
With 11, 2 byes at the top, and 3 at the bottom.
With 12, 2 byes at the top, and 2 at the bottom.
With 13, 1 bye at the top, and 2 at the bottom.
With 14, 1 bye at the top, and 1 at the bottom.
With 15, 1 bye at the bottom.
With 16, no byes.

SERIES 3.

From 17 to 32 Competitors.

With 17, 7 byes at the top, and 8 byes at the bottom.



With 18, 7 byes at the top, and 7 byes at the bottom.
With 19, 6 byes at the top, and 7 byes at the bottom.
With 20, 6 byes at the top, and 6 byes at the bottom.
With 21, 5 byes at the top, and 6 byes at the bottom.
With 22, 5 byes at the top, and 5 byes at the bottom.
With 23, 4 byes at the top, and 5 byes at the bottom.
With 24, 4 byes at the top, and 4 byes at the bottom.
With 25, 3 byes at the top, and 4 byes at the bottom.
With 26, 3 byes at the top, and 3 byes at the bottom.
With 27, 2 byes at the top, and 3 byes at the bottom.
With 28, 2 byes at the top, and 2 byes at the bottom.
With 29, 1 bye at the top, and 2 byes at the bottom.
With 30, 1 bye at the top, and 1 bye at the bottom.
With 31, 1 bye at the bottom.
With 32, no byes.
And so on with larger numbers in the same manner.

18.—If a Competitor be absent when called upon to play, or shall refuse to play, or shall have given previous notice to the Referee or to a member of the Committee that he cannot play in the next round, his adversary shall win in that round, unless said Competitor shall have been formally excused for a definite period by the Referee.

19.—In handicap matches the competitors shall be handicapped by the Committee, or by a Handicapper appointed by the Committee.

20.—The method of handicapping shall be by classes as below:—

GIVEN ODDS.

Class O—(Scratch).

Class	1	receives	1-sixth of 15.
"	2	"	2-sixths of 15.
"	3	"	3-sixths of 15.
"	4	"	4-sixths of 15.
"	5	"	5-sixths of 15.
"	6	"	15.
"	7	"	15 and 1-sixth of 15.
"	8	"	15 and 2-sixths of 15.
"	9	"	15 and 3-sixths of 15.
"	10	"	15 and 4-sixths of 15.
"	11	"	15 and 5-sixths of 15.
"	12	"	30.
"	13	"	30 and 1-sixth of 15.
"	14	"	30 and 2-sixths of 15.
"	15	"	30 and 3-sixths of 15.
"	16	"	30 and 4-sixths of 15.
"	17	"	30 and 5-sixths of 15.
"	18	"	40.

When two players in different classes below scratch meet, the superior player shall start from scratch, and the odds received by the inferior player are as shown by the annexed table, No. 1. To use the table, find in the diagonal line of figures the number representing the class of the superior player, then travel along the horizontal column until the vertical column is reached which bears at the top the number of the class of the inferior player. The odds specified at the intersection of the two columns are the odds required.

Example.—If class 3 has to meet class 9, start from the figure 3 in the diagonal line of figures, and look horizontally until the vertical column is reached headed by the figure 9. The odds given at the point of intersection of the two columns (viz., 15 and 1-6 of 15) are the odds required.

When the difference between the best and the worst players entered is great (say more than 30), it is desirable to handicap the best players at owed odds. The players above scratch (i. e., owing odds) should be classified as follows: —

OWED ODDS.

Class	1	owes	1-sixth of 15.
"	2	"	2-sixths of 15.
"	3	"	3-sixths of 15.
"	4	"	4-sixths of 15.
"	5	"	5-sixths of 15.
"	6	"	15.
"	7	"	15 and 1-sixth of 15.
"	8	"	15 and 2-sixths of 15.

"	17	"	30 and 5-sixths of 15.
"	18	"	40.

HANDICAPS. TABLE No. 1. (Received Odds).

When two players, both in receipt of odds, meet, the player receiving the smaller odds is put back to scratch. The following table shows the point at which the other should then start. The number at the left of the horizontal columns denotes the player who goes back to scratch, those at the head of the vertical columns the player who still receives odds; and the numbers within the columns show the odds to be received by the player whose number stands at the head of the column.

In using this table supply throughout the word "owe" before the odds specified.

When the two players in different classes above scratch meet, the inferior player shall start from scratch, and the odds owed by the superior player are as shown by the annexed table, No. 2.

This table is to be used in the same way as the former, the class of the superior player being looked for in the horizontal line of figures at the top, and the class of the inferior player in the diagonal line of figures.

Example.—If class 12 (owe 30) meet class 7 (owe 15 and 4-6 of 15), the former must owe the latter the odds of 4-6 of 15.

21.—In Championship matches and handicaps by classes, as above, advantage sets shall be played throughout.

22.—The Committee may, whether appealed to by any Competitor or not, postpone the meeting or any match or part of a match if, in their opinion, the state of the weather, or of the light, or the condition of the ground, or other circumstances, render it advisable to do so. In cases of postponement, Law 25 must be strictly observed.

Cases and Decisions.

By James Dwight.

THE following Cases and Decisions are intended to meet questions often asked at Tournaments, and also to cover points apparently not provided for in the Laws.

I. A player standing outside the court volleys the ball or catches it in his hand, and claims the stroke because the ball was certainly going out of court.

Decision. — He loses the stroke. It makes no difference where he was standing. The return is presumed good until it strikes the ground outside of the court.

II. A player is struck by the ball served before it has touched the ground, he being outside of the service court. How does it count?

Decision. — The player struck loses the stroke. The service is presumably good until it strikes in the wrong court. A player cannot take the decision upon himself by stopping the ball. If it is going to be a fault, he has only to get out of the way.

III. The service is delivered before the striker-out is ready. He tries to return it and fails. Is he entitled to have it played over again?

Decision. — No. If he attempts to return the service he is deemed ready.

IV. The striker-out calls "Not ready," for a second service. The ball strikes beyond the service line, and the striker-out claims that the fact that he was not ready makes no difference, since a fault cannot be returned, and, therefore, that two faults have been served.

Decision. — The second service goes for nothing. A player cannot call "Not ready," and then have the service count, or not, as suits his interests.

V. A ball having been played over the net bounds back into the court from which it came. The player reaches over the net and plays it before it falls. Has he a right to do so?

Decision. — Yes, provided he does not touch the net. He has a right to play the ball at any time from the moment it crosses the net into his court until it touches the ground a second time.

VI. A ball is played into the net; the player on the other side, thinking that the ball is coming over, strikes at it and hits the net. Who loses the stroke?

Decision. — It is simply a question of fact for the umpire to decide. If the player touched the net while the ball was still in play he loses the stroke.

VII Can a player follow a ball over the net with his racket, provided that he hits the ball on his own side of the net?

Decision. — Yes, the only restrictions are that he shall not volley the ball until it has crossed the net, and that he shall not touch the net or any of its supports.

VIII. A player's racket slips out of his hand and flies into the net. Does he lose the stroke for hitting the net?

Decision. — Yes, if the ball be still in play. It does not matter if the racket be in a player's hand or not.

IX. A player's racket leaves his hand, but meets the ball and returns it over the net. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes. There is no law requiring a racket to be in a player's hand when the ball is returned. It would unquestionably be a good return if the racket were held against the ground by a player's feet, and the ball bounded back off of it.

X. A single match is played with a double net and inside posts. A player touches the net beyond the inside posts, and claims that he does not lose the stroke because there should be no net more than three feet outside of the court.

Decision. — He loses the stroke. The net where he touches it is part of the supports of the net. He might, perhaps, have objected to the arrangement of the net before the match.

XI. A player returns the ball, and, finding that he cannot stop himself before reaching the net, jumps over it. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Law 4 requires that "the players shall stand on opposite sides of the net," and therefore the player invading his opponet's court loses the stroke.

XII. A ball passes outside the post of the net and strikes in court. Is it a good return.

Decision. — Yes.

XIII. A ball going out of court hits the top of the post of the net and bounds into the opposite court.

Decision. — It is a good return.

XIV. The service or the ball in play strikes a ball lying in the court. Can it be returned?

Decision. — Yes, if it be clear to the umpire that the right ball is returned.

XV. The server claims that the striker-out must stand in the court. Is this necessary?

Decision. — No. The striker-out can stand wherever he pleases on his own side of the net.

XVI. A bystander gets in the way of a player who fails to return the ball. May he then claim a let?

Decision. — Yes, if, in the umpire's opinion, he was prevented by an accident beyond his control. For instance, if the ropes or the seats are allowed to be so near to the court that a player is interfered with by them, the stroke should not be played again, because the ropes and seats form part of the arrangements of the ground. If, however, a spectator passes in front of those seats, or places a chair nearer than the original line, and so interferes with a player, the stroke should be played again.

XVII. A player is interfered with as above, and the umpire directs the stroke to be played again. The server had previously served a fault. He claims the right to two services.

Decision. — The fault stands. A let does not annul a previous fault.

XVIII. A return hits the umpire, or his chair or stand, the player claims that the ball was going into court.

Decision. — Stroke is lost.

XIX. A player receiving fifteen, serves from the left court. His opponent claims a fault.

Decision. — It is a fault. The service starts from the right court under all circumstances.

XX. At fifteen-all the server by mistake serves from the left court, he wins the stroke and serves again (a fault), the mistake is then discovered. Is he entitled to the previous stroke? From which court should he serve next?

Decision. — The previous stroke stands. A fault cannot be claimed after the next service, good or not, is delivered. The next service should be from the left court, the score being thirty-fifteen, and the server has served one fault.

XXI. A player serves from the wrong court, he loses the stroke, and then claims that it was a fault.

Decision. — If the stroke was played in his first service it is simply a fault, but if he serves twice into the wrong court he has served two faults, and lost the stroke.

XXII. The score is five games all, and the umpire directs the players to play an advantage set. The advantage game has been won, when it is discovered that no advantage sets are to be played. What is to be done?

Decision. — The set is won at the eleventh game. It is no part of the umpire's duty to decide on the conditions of the matches.

XXIII. A player serves. He hears the umpire call, but cannot hear what he says. He knows that the only two things that the umpire should call are "fault" and "let," and that in neither case can the ball be in play. He, therefore, does not return it, only to find that the umpire has called "play." Has he any redress?

Decision. — No.

XXIV. The umpire calls "fault," and then instantly changes and says "play." The striker-out fails to return the ball, and he claims he was prevented by the umpire, and also that the umpire cannot change his decision.

Decision. — The umpire should call a let and the service be taken again.

XXV. A ball drops near a line, the player appeals, and the umpire calls "play." The player misunderstands the call and lets the ball fall. He then claims to have the stroke played again.

Decision. — The stroke stands.

XXVI.—The ball strikes the ground close to a line the scorer scores the stroke against the striker. On appeal to the linesman, the latter decided that the ball was not out. Which decision stands?

Decision. — The scorer has no right to consider a ball out until the linesman has called to that effect, therefore, the decision of the latter must be accepted. The decision of a linesman affecting his own line is final.

XXVII. A return strikes the cord running along the bottom of the net and bounds over. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes.

XXVIII. During play a ball is thrown into court, and the ball in play strikes it or a player steps on it. May a let be claimed?

Decision. — Yes.

XXIX. The server's first service strikes his partner. Does he lose the stroke or is it a fault?

Decision. — A fault.

XXX. A player serves a fault and it is then discovered that it is his partner's service. Does the fault stand?

Decision. — Yes.

XXXI. In a four-handed competition one player does not appear in time to play, and his partner claims to be allowed to play single-handed against the opposing pair. May he do so?

Decision. — No.

THE SEASON OF 1908.

THE season has been a very interesting one, though its finish was disappointing.

It is needless to dwell on the increase of tournaments, etc. Never in this country has lawn tennis been so popular.

The Davis Cup matches have added a great deal to our own events. Very early in the spring it was thought settled that an English team would come to this country to play the preliminary in Philadelphia, but after long delay it decided not to come. Later, just as we were planning to play England in Melbourne it was decided to send the team here and Longwood was selected as the place.

The interest shown was a certain proof of the popularity of the game. For the Championship there were 149 entries, by far the largest number that there has ever been. The ranking committee has ranked more names than ever before. Everything goes to show the growth of the game.

In looking over the country one finds that Larned is unquestionably the best player we have. He played at Longwood and at Newport and against Parke and Ritchie. All these matches he won and with something to spare. After him come Wright, Alexander, Clothier and Little in the East. In Chicago and the Middle West Emerson stands first. In the South Thornton seems easily first. He won the Southern Championship, the Gulf States and Tennessee. He lost to Touchard in the Championship after a hard match. On the Pacific Coast, Long seems to be first with McLaughlin a very close second. Then came Gardner and Bundy. It is possible to get a little better idea of the standards of play in the different parts of the country this year, than it has been before. For instance Long beat Johnson and Niles. Emerson reached the Semi-Final at Newport, where he lost to B. C. Wright.

Thornton is in about the same class as Touchard.

WILLIAM A. LARNED
Champion of the United States

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

FORTUNATELY the weather at Newport was fine on Tues Wednesday, so that it was possible to reduce the enormou list to a reasonable size, before rain interrupted the play.

There were seventeen matches in the First Round. Only on for mention, that between Little and Clothier. It was won by th very easily in three sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3. Little was not in his best f

Instead of taking each round by itself, let us follow the course more interesting matches and of the better players. Alexander the upper quarter and little to do till he met Sulloway in the Sixth R to whom he lost the first set and nearly the second. That br him into the Semi-Final. Below him Sulloway beat Hawk thre to none, and LeRoy after losing the first two sets before he met Clo The next section was more close. Touchard beat Thornton, 6-4, 8-6, 12-10. Westfall beat Russ three sets to one. Touchard beat Westfall after a very hard match played on the Champio Court, 6-8, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2, 7-5 He then met Clothier, who was too st for him and lost, 6-1, 8-6, 6-0. I. C. Wright beat Niles in the Se Round, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5, and then lost to Clothier, who beat Am the next round, and then Church, when he met Touchard.

So much for the upper half. The best of the next 32 was Emer though he had to play four sets with Blair, four each with Colston, and Nettleton and five with Jones, which put him in the Semi-F against B. C. Wright. W. F. Johnson beat Palmer three sets to then Cooke and lost to B. C. Wright. The latter made his way i the Semi-Final without difficulty, his match in the round before be against Torrance, who had so far not lost a set.

In the Semi-Finals Alexander met Clothier in the upper half and B. Wright met Emerson.

Alexander won the first three games of the first set, and again t fifth, 4-1. Clothier won three in succession 4-all. Alexander mad it 5-4, but Clothier brought it to games-all. Alexander took the ne two games easily, playing extremely well.

Clothier won the first and second games, Alexander the next thre Clothier two, 4-3. Alexander reached 5-4 and 40 love, but lost th game. The next two games he again won easily, with a great streak o play. In the third set the games went with the service up to 4-all, the Clothier lost his service and as Alexander won his, the latter took th 6-4, and the match 3-0.

The score gives little idea of the match. Clothier played a very strong game, and a great deal of the time he played as well or better than Alexander, but when the critical times came Alexander seemed always able to let out a link and go ahead.

The match between Wright and Emerson was closer than had been expected. Wright won the first set easily, but either he slowed up a little or Emerson came on, or probably a little of both, for Emerson won the second set 6-4 and reached 5-4 in the third set. It was his last effort and he lost the next three games and the set 7-5, and the fourth set 6-3, He played very well against a strong player.

The weather was too bad on Wednesday and Thursday for play.

On Friday the conditions were fairly good, but it seemed as if the waiting had not suited Alexander. He was in nothing like the form that he showed against Little. Wright played very well, but the match was a disappointment. The service won for four games and then Alexander got no more till the score was 5-2 against him, and then but one 6-3.

The second set went easily to Wright, 2-0, 3-1, 4-2, 6-3. Alexander won the first and second games of the third set, but afterwards he was hardly in it, and again lost 6-3.

The Championship was played in beautiful weather and there was a very large gallery.

Wright won the first game on his service to 15. Larned won the three next games to 15, the fourth to love; the sixth after deuce had been called once and the last to 15. He passed Wright easily when he tried to come up or occasionally lobbed over his head. In the second set the play was more even for a time. Larned won the first game and Wright the second and third, showing rather better form than in the first set, but he could get no farther and only one game reached deuce. The last set was really close, but Larned always seemed to have a little the advantage. Wright won two games and then Larned three. Then each won his service till the score was 6-all; Larned each time having won the vantage game. He won it again and then Wright's service, 8-6. At times the match was very brilliant, but at no time was Wright better than Larned and most of the time much inferior. Thus ended the largest tournament that has been held for our Championship. Fortunately the weather was fine for the first four days, or it would have been impossible to carry it through in any reasonable time.

HAROLD H. HACKETT AND FREDERICK B. ALEXANDER
Champions in Doubles of the United States

NATIONAL DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

WRIGHT and Little had won the Eastern Doubles at Longwood and beaten the other winners at Bay Ridge, and now met the Champions of last year, Alexander and Hackett. There was some very pretty play, but the Champions were clearly a stronger team than their opponents. Hackett began serving and won a love game. Alexander and Hackett won the second and third games as well. In all of the sets Wright and Little did a good deal of lobbing and it was either short or went out. In the fourth game they played better and won it at deuce. The next three went to the Champions and the set 6-1, and 29 strokes to 13. The second set was very different, being hard and evenly fought all the way through. It ran along with the service winning till the score was 3-all, when Wright and Little lost the service, 4-3; Hackett won his, 5-3. Wright and Little made it 5-4 and then won on Alexander's service, 5-all. Alexander took the vantage game almost wholly on his opponents errors, and then Hackett again won his service after deuce had been called three times.

The third and last set needs little description. In the fourth game deuce was called once and the other five games Wright and Little won only four strokes. It was a very brilliant exhibition on the part of Alexander and Hackett.

The Scores: 6-1, 7-5, 6-2.

THE DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

East vs. West and West vs. South.

THE Double preliminary matches between the Eastern, Western and Southern Double teams to see who would prove the winner to play the National Champions, Hackett and Alexander at Newport the following week for the Championship of the country, took place on the fine grass courts of the Crescent Athletic Club, Bay Ridge, N. Y., August 13, 14 and 15.

The drawing brought the East vs. South match first, the winners to play the West. The results were as follows:

East vs. South.

Wright and Little (East.) vs. Whitehead and Winston (South). The matches proved rather one-sided. The latter seemed to be nervous and over anxious, which no doubt prevented them from playing their best game, while the former team played strong all-around tennis which gave them the match in three straight sets, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

This brought the East and West pairs to face each other.

East vs. West.

The Western team proved themselves much stronger than the South though they were also defeated in three straight sets. They played good tennis and at times during the match put the Easterners to their best game to defeat them, which they did by the following score, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4.

THE MATCHES FOR THE DAVIS CUP.

AMERICA VS. BRITISH ISLES.

BOTH England and America challenged Australia for the Cup. It was finally agreed that the preliminary should be played at the Longwood Cricket Club grounds, Boston, Mass., where two fine grass courts were prepared for the event. The American team consisted of Alexander, Hackett, Larned and Wright. It was known at the time that only Alexander and Wright could go to Australia, but as the regulations allow the use of different teams for the different sets of matches, it seemed wise to name the full strength of the country.

The play began on Thursday, September 17 at Longwood with the match between Larned and Parke. There had been some disappointment, when the British team was named, as neither of the Dohertys or Smith were on it, but the result showed that this country needed its best men to win.

Larned vs. Parke.

Parke is very tall, strong and active. His service has little or no twist, but it is fast and well placed, and not easy to do much with. He seems to prefer the back of the court, and to be better on his passing strokes backhanded than forehanded. He also can smash a short lob as it should be done. At times he was unsteady, but at other times his strokes across court were beautifully exact, and extremely fast. He lost because he was not quite as good as Larned.

Larned on his part played the match with great judgment. He found soon that he was the better and could win without taking too much risk in running up, and he was contented to go along slowly and to take no chances. Occasionally, as in the last part of the third set he would suddenly begin playing a much faster game, and when he did so, he won easily.

Wright vs. Ritchie.

In the meantime the other Singles Match was going quite the other way. Wright was in very poor form and though he carried the first game to deuce and won the second, Ritchie ran out the set 6-1, in a very few minutes. He played for the most part in the back of the court and kept a good length and good direction.

The second set looked more hopeful for a time. Wright won the first game to love, lost the second after deuce had been called once, won the third, and after losing the next two, brought the score even at 3-all. He made but four strokes in the rest of the set. In the third set Ritchie lost the first and third games, but won the set 6-2. Wright worked very hard to save the match at the end, but he was too uncertain to hold his own against Ritchie's steadiness. Thus the first day ended with the score even, each country winning a match.

The Doubles.

Friday was again a beautiful day and there was a larger gallery than on Thursday, about 2,500 people being present. They saw a match such as is seldom seen in its wonderful brilliancy and uncertainty. Against so good a pair as Alexander and Hackett. Ritchie's careful, well-placed strokes are not so effective as in Singles. Parke, on the other hand, showed a game for which he had not been given credit. His speed and placing and his ability to get anything and to return it not only fast but well-placed, showed how great a double player he would be, if he and his partner had played enough together to make such an accurately working machine as Alexander and Hackett.

Larned vs. Ritchie.

The weather on the last day was again very fine, and the conditions good for play. Larned started very badly, apparently being nervous. Occasionally he made a fine stroke, but in most cases the ball went out or into the net. In this way five games went to Ritchie who was playing steadily and well, but who was not pressed to any great extent. With the score five love against him Larned started playing in earnest. He brought the score to 4-5, but he lost the next game and the set 6-4. However, he had not got going and though he lost the first game of the second set, he took the next with the loss of three strokes only. Ritchie won the fifth game to love and the seventh at deuce, but Larned won the others, only one going to deuce and the second set 6-3. He ran out the third set very fast. He lost the fifth and sixth games, but of the others only one reached deuce. Ritchie's game did not seem to have fallen off, but Larned was clearly the stronger. The fourth set started with four long games, three of which Ritchie took. Larned won the next after deuce had been called twice, and then ran the set out with the loss of but four points. After Larned once got going he was unmistakably the stronger player of the two. Ritchie played a good, steady game and the result was no reflection on his play.

Wright vs. Parke.

This match is harder to describe properly for the play varied from very good to very poor. The first set ran evenly to 3-all and then Wright won two games 5-3, one at deuce and one to love. Parke won the next two, losing only one stroke, 5-all. Then the advantage game went twice to Wright and once to Parke, and at 8-all Parke quite out-played Wright and won both the next games at love. The second set was shorter. Parke won the first two games, lost the third and fourth won the fifth and sixth. Then Wright won his last game in the set to 30 as Parke took the last two; one being at deuce, two sets love. The third set was 2-all and 4-2 for Parke. The next game Wright won at deuce and followed it with three more in which Parke got only three points. The fourth set was the deciding one of the match. Wright won the second, third and fourth games also the sixth 4-2. Parke made a great effort and won three games one to 30 and two to 15; 5-4 for Parke. Wright rose to the occasion and ran the set out. It was Parke's last real success, though he won the third and sixth games of the fifth set. Wright deserves credit for pulling out the match when it seemed to be lost.

AMERICA VS. AUSTRALASIA DAVIS CUP MATCHES.

On October 9 Wright (Captain) and Alexander sailed from Vancouver for Sydney, N. S. W. The trip was a long one and the players took moderate exercise such as throwing the medicine ball, cricket and skipping rope. On their arrival at Brisbane, Sydney, and Melbourne, they were met by the various tennis committees and given a royal welcome. At both Brisbane and Sydney they were urged to stop over and play, but as there was only a short time to get into condition, they began training at once in Melbourne.

The Warehouseman grounds where the matches were to be played were not quite in readiness, so for the first ten days private courts were put at their disposal and the leading Australian and American players had many good Single and Double practice matches together. Brookes practiced on his own private court with Wilding who was living with him.

The Victorian Championships began the week before the Internationals and all the leading players participated. Brookes and Wright defaulted, Wright the day before he met Wilding as he thought it best to put all the strain on the Final contest. Alexander, however, played through, meeting and losing to Wilding in the Finals. In the Doubles both International pairs met, Brookes and Wilding winning.

Summer was fast approaching as it does in South Australia and the temperature would range from 135 degrees to 150 degrees in the sun, consequently the players had to be careful and not overdo. The matches were scheduled for the 26th, 27th and 28th of November, but the first day it rained.

Alexander vs. Brookes.

The 27th was a beautiful day, and when Brookes and Alexander walked on the court at 2 p. m. the three stands and club house porch were crowded with enthusiastic Australians, although there were a few Americans who were most loyal.

Alexander lost the first four games by being erratic, but soon settled down and only allowed Brookes one more game that set which was a great surprise not only to the world's Champion but to close followers of the game. Both players were winning on their favorite shots, Brookes on his service and sharp volleying, and Alexander by his beautiful ground strokes and smashing. Not until 7-all was called did Brookes break through winning by 9-7. In the third set Alexander continued with the same brilliancy, but Brookes missed several easy volleys and only got two games losing 6-2. With two sets to one in his favor and winning the last set so easily, it seemed as though Alexander would win, but he lost his aggressiveness, while Brookes began to force matters and won the last two sets though not easily as 3-all was called in the fifth.

Wright vs. Wilding.

Shortly after four Wright and Wilding came on the court. After winning the Victorian Championship, Wilding's stock went up and he looked like a sure winner taking the first set, 6-3. On the other hand Wright was taking things easily and working Wilding on short ones when back, low ones when he ran in, mixed with many lobs. This told on Wilding as he lost his sting, thus allowing Wright to be the aggressor on all occasions winning the last 3 sets, 7-5, 6-3, 6-1. In the last set Wilding played almost entirely a back court game.

THE DOUBLES.

Wright and Alexander vs. Brookes and Wilding.

The splendid weather conditions still prevailed and on Saturday afternoon when the Doubles started, every possible seat was occupied and many people were refused admittance.

The four players entered at the same time and the gallery stood up and cheered. This naturally enthused the players, although they realized this match would, without doubt, decide the entire contest. There was no choice between the teams as all four had reputations as Doubles players. Brookes and Wilding having won the All England Championship the previous year and Alexander and Wright both being U. S. National Champions, Alexander for two years with Hackett (and present Champions) and Wright for three years undefeated with Ward. Passed records and general opinion proved true as Brooks and Wilding won, but only after a hard and exciting 5-set match. Both sides were aggressive, and it was a battle to work through the service. Wilding was steady all through, but not brilliant. He seldom failed to return the service close to the net thus making it hard to volley. Brookes served and volleyed well as usual, was weak on his back-hand, but protected this by running around the ball. He fell off badly in the fourth set, but came back brilliantly in the fifth, and saved the day. Wright served strongly and led on aces. His smashing was deadly and his ground strokes sure, but not brilliant. He played poorest in the third set. Alexander was brilliant all through. His smashing was better than any of the others, but he never lobbed thus allowing his opponents to play close to the net. Excitement was intense and applause plentiful until the Americans led 2-0 in the final set and their service, then there came a lull. It looked like a victory and the Cup, but unfortunately Alexander lost his service twice in the last set and the match was won by Australasia, 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 1-6, 6-4.

International Dinner.

The International dinner was planned for Saturday night and could not be postponed. It was a great success as over fifty sat down. Many speeches were made and the Americans were presented with most attractive opal pins, the Australian emblem, while the Americans presented Mr. Chomley, the referee, with a silver case. Many speeches were made and each speaker remarked that it was greatly appreciated by all that America sent a team such a distance to try and regain the Cup. They also remarked about the American's sportsmanship. Sunday was spent quietly as all the players were glad for the rest.

Wright vs. Brookes.

The first match Monday was the Brookes vs. Wright contest, and it was a contest. The players had met on three previous occasions, Wright winning twice in a five-set match in the London Championships and in a four-set match in the International a week after. Wright was at top form and the same year he won the U. S. Championship. Two years later, however, Brookes won three straight winning the English Championship the same year.

The stands were packed when the players entered the court at two o'clock, and were heartily cheered. At the time the temperature was 145° in the dazzling sun. Brookes wore a hat the entire match, while Wright went bare headed.

Brookes started off brilliantly getting many aces on first services, and after receiving Wright's service would follow it in, and a battle at the net would follow, Brookes usually winning. At four love Wright saw that there was little chance of winning the set, and if he did in such heat he would have but little left for the balance of the match, so very wisely he lobbed as he did to Wilding, but did not play any short ones as Brookes volleyed too well. Brookes won the next two games and set six love, but the tossing made them long ones and took some of his snap away. Wright continued these tactics until finally Brookes gave up following in on Wright's service. It was here the match changed and the players were on an even footing. It was a match of skill with the racket, headwork and endurance. Brookes won the second set 6-3, and after exchanging services until 4-all was called and Brookes had 40-30 with his service next, it looked as though the match was over and the Cup lost. Wright won the game by three brilliant shots and allowed Brookes but one more game, winning 7-5. There was not enough time to change flannels between the sets as the Australian rules only allow three minutes, so the players took advantage of this precious time by bathing their heads with cold wet towels, which was most refreshing. Two sets to one for Brookes sounded like a safe lead, but Wright's tactics in the early part of the match caused Brookes to lose his severe service and forcing tactics, and in the fourth set Wright simply took all chances and rushed matters winning 6-2, making but few errors. This continued until Wright was 4-1, when Brookes revived and the score was called 4-all amid cheers.

A battle of services and the survival of the fittest followed. Both players were working mechanically, the real tennis had gone. They could only reach the middle of the court to volley and the spectators to both players seemed to be a blur. Brookes had 7-6, 8-7 and 10-9, when Wright put a most determined look on his face and won the last three games 12 points to 6. The onlookers yelled bravo to both players until they reached the clubhouse after a match that lasted two hours and forty minutes.

Wilding vs. Alexander.

When Wilding and Alexander went into the court it was ten minutes to five, and another long match would have caused a play-off the following day as both captains agreed to stop play each at six.

Both players appeared to be a trifle nervous as was only natural with the future home of the Cup depending on this match. After the preliminary warming up, Wilding began serving and won the game, also the next two. This gave Wilding a commanding lead which he held until the end winning by 3 sets to love and without losing a single service game. Alexander could not seem to get started, while Wilding took all chances making but few mistakes and being very aggressive. After the match he was carried off the court on the shoulders of his friends.

The Americans received every possible courtesy during their visit, and the committee did all in their power to assist the challengers. The court was in perfect condition, and great pains were taken in selecting the linesmen who were mostly leading players. It is only hoped that America will be able to send another team to Australia this year. It can be truly said that they play the game for sport's sake.

THE WOMEN'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE National Championship for Women's Singles and Doubles and Mixed Doubles was again held at Wissahickon, the home of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, where all of these historic events have been held since the inception of National Championships for the fair sex. A record-breaking entry list both in size and quality greeted the onlookers and made the hard-working committee hustle to get everything run off on time.

A successful innovation was the playing of matches in the mornings as well as the afternoons and the change seemed to be acceptable to all concerned.

The severe heat was responsible for two or three defaults in the First Round and also accounts for the retirement of Miss Kutroff, who after a hard set with Miss Johnson of the Merion Cricket Club of Philadelphia, which Miss Johnson won 7-5, succumbed to the heat and had to retire after the first two games of the second set had been played.

One noteworthy match in the First Round was the defeat of Miss C. T. Chase, a former Pennsylvania State Champion, by Miss Matilda Borden of the home club. The balance of the matches in the First Round were won without much difficulty by the favorites.

Miss Borden in the Second Round defeated Miss Curtis of Boston, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Mrs. Pouch, who as Miss Helwig, won the National Championship some few years ago, defeated Miss Erna Marcus quite easily by the score of 6-3, 6-1. Mrs. Barger-Wallach played her usulal steady game, defeating Miss C. Scott, the Champion of the Country Club, West Chester (N. Y.), in straight sets.

Getting down to the Third Round, Miss Borden, the local player, kept up her wonderfully good work and in straight sets defeated Mrs. A. G. Miles.

The Third Round was productive of good tennis all through and brought together in the Fourth Round Miss Rotch who defeated Mrs. Pouch after a hard match.

Mrs. Barger-Wallach caused the downfall of the local player, defeating Miss Borden, 6-3, 6-2. This being really the first time that Miss Borden had gone through such an important tournament, the strain naturally told on her, and it speaks well that the game is producing such a good quality of players who promise to make strong bids for the Championship in the future.

Miss Johnson of Staten Island defeated Miss Cohen of Philadelphia and Miss Wagner caused the downfall of Miss Neely of Chicago. This was an excellent match, each winning a set 6-4 and 5-all, being called in the final set when Miss Wagner's steady and accurate play won the remaining two games giving her the set, 7-5.

In the Semi-Final Round Mrs. Barger-Wallach, still playing her steady game from the base-line, relying almost entirely on her ability to place the ball, defeated Miss Rotch, 6-2, 6-4. The score, however, does not indicate the closeness of the match.

Miss Wagner accounted for Miss Johnson.

The Final Match brought together Mrs. Barger-Wallach and Miss Wagner, opponents of entirely different styles of tennis, created a great deal of interest. Miss Wagner's forcing tactics won her the first set 6-4, but nothing daunted, Mrs. Wallach came back strong in the second set, winning handily by the score 6-1, and then apparently stronger in the last set run out the game 6-3, giving her the privilege of challenging Miss Evelyn Sears.

The Championship Round was played in front of the grand stand before a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators. Both players clung to the base-line game, rarely attempting to go to the net and they both relied on their placing and not on their service, and the rallies were long and sustained, the ball frequently going over the net in single rallies 15 to 20 times.

The first set went to Mrs. Barger-Wallach, score 6-3, and the second was nip and tuck until 5-all was called, when Miss Sears ran out the necessary two games obtaining the set. After the usual rest the third and final set was started and some long sustained rallies were evidenced, and the score crept to 5-all, 6-all, 7-all, until the wonderfully accurate placing of Mrs. Wallach began to tell and she ran out the two remaining games, winning the match and Championship, 9-7.

The Ladies' Doubles brought together in the Final Round Miss Sears and Miss Curtis of Boston who defeated Miss Neely and Miss Steever of Chicago, 6-3, 5-7, 9-7. The match was marked by fast tennis with close net work on the part of the Western pair and the smashes and cross court shots added greatly to the interest and gameness of the contest.

Miss Rotch paired with Niles in the Final Round of the Mixed Doubles and defeated Miss Hammond and Little, the National player. Niles' curious twist service was used with deadly effect, and both of the men displayed great ability in their hard smashing and lobbying.

In the Men's Singles Beals Wright won, defeating Dr. Dewhurst, 5-7, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3.

Taking all together the tournament was the most successful of all the National tournaments held, and the sustained interest shown not only by the contestants, but by the spectators indicates a more marked activity in the game among the fair sex than ever before.

The tournament was ably handled by Mr. Patton as chairman, who was most energetic and worked hard for the interests of all concerned.

MRS. BARGER-WALLACH
Lady Champion of the United States

One of the features not mentioned before was the fact that the rooms of the Chestnut Hill Academy, formerly the Wissahickon Inn, were secured for the players, which proved a great convenience as the building is practically at the entrance of the Philadelphia Cricket Club grounds.

LAWN TENNIS IN THE SOUTH.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE SOUTH.

THE tournament for Championship of the South was held for the third time on the beautiful dirt courts of the Atlanta Athletic Club in the week of July 6 to 11. Seventy-seven players, representing Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Florida, North Carolina, New York, Indiana, Illinois and Virginia showed the wide interest that the Southern is attracting, and also indicated an advance both in numbers and grade of play.

While Nat Thornton, who had won the Singles Championship the year before, was regarded as a strong probability in defending his title successfully, it was seen the first day's play that there were several decidedly strong contestants for the title, including Cowan Rodgers of Knoxville, Whitehead and Winston of Norfolk, Grant and C. Y. Smith of Atlanta.

After many exciting matches being played the honor fell to Hugh Whitehead to meet the Champion, Nat Thornton, for the Challenge Match. Keen interest in the result brought out a gallery of several hundred people, and while local sentiment was strongly for the Atlanta player to win, Whitehead had also a host of friends and shared equally in the applause from the grand stand. Thornton was quick to take advantage of the fact that Whitehead played a back court game, relying upon his accuracy in pass-shots; so Thornton took the net from the start. There for two sets he played remarkably good tennis, covering the court completely, and displaying a variety in returns, cross-courting, baseline smashes and short strokes, which bewildered his opponent, and won for him the first two sets at 6-2, 6-1. By this time Whitehead realized the situation was desperate and went strongly for the next set, winning it at 6-3, and looked to have a good chance for the fourth set also. But with the score five-all, he lost his service and Thornton, by winning his own took the deciding game and match, thereby becoming for the second year Champion of the South.

The weather for the week was ideal, clear and not too warm, and the tournament passed without a hitch. For this great credit is due Referee Frank Reynolds, who gave constant attention to every detail of the meet.

Southern Champion Singles

SOUTHERN DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIP.

The U. S. N. L. T. A. Doubles Championship is played in three sections—Boston. Chicago and Atlanta. The latter was held July 6 to 11 at the Atlanta Athletic Club and brought together twenty-seven teams representing seven states. Much regret was felt that owing to the illness of Charles Rodgers, the Rodgers Brothers' team of Knoxville was broken up. But Cowan Rodgers and Farrell of Nashivle teamed up, and for a time looked as if they might reach the Finals, but were disposed of in the Third Round by Whitehead and Winston. Carter and Middlebrooks, Southern Intercollegiate Champions, were beaten in the same round by Sanders and McGinnis of New Orleans. The suprise of the tournament was in the strength of the two young players, Cowan and Van Gilder of Knoxville. Although it was their first real tournament experience, they reached the Semi-Finals without much trouble, defeating several very good teams, and being beaten by Whitehead and Winston in straight sets after a very pretty contest, losing the last set at 7-5.

Smith and Howell of Atlanta, who had made a good showing for several years came out to the Finals without the loss of a set. Here they met Winston and Whitehead, and after a rather brilliant start, and winning the first set at 6-4, proved unequal to the contest, and lost three sets at 0-6, 2-6, 3-6.

This victory for Winston and Whitehead entitled them to challenge Grant and Thornton, two years Southern Champions, for the title, and the honor of representing the South in the National East-West-South tournament at the Crescent Athletic Club in August. The weather for the match was ideal, and the interest among the tennis contingent intense. A gallery that overflowed the grand stands assembled early, and all indications were for a close struggle. The Norfolk pair, however, took the upper hand from the start, Whitehead returning everything with great steadiness, and Winston killing at every opportunity with sharp cross-courts or by bouncing the ball over the back stops. While Grant played with great steadiness and excellent judgment, Thornton had a decidedly off-day, driving the ball repeatedly into the net or just beyond the base line, and the spectators quickly saw how the match would end. In a very short time Winston and Whitehead had annexed the first and second sets at 6-2, 6-3; and after losing the third set at 4-6, won thhe fourth and deciding set at 6-4.

LADIES' SINGLES SOUTHERN CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Ladies' Singles, while not a large tournament as yet, showed growth in number of entrants, and some very good tennis resulted. Much of the interest of the week was centered in the ladies' events, and the rivalry between Atlanta and New Orleans, the only two cities represented was keen. In the Final Round Miss Gertrude Jones of Atlanta and Miss Olga Von Nordenflycht of New Orleans met. The first set went to Miss Von Nordenflycht, but here she had spent her strength in a measure, the score being 6-8. In the second and third sets, Miss Jones, with great steadiness and excellent judgment had little difficulty in getting a good lead, and was never overtaken, winning these two sets at 6-2, 6-2. This placed her in the Challenge Round against Mrs. Blanc Monroe of New Orleans, two times winner of the Southern Championship.

This match afforded some very pretty tennis, and the first set was not decided until the twelfth game had ended, going to Mrs. Monroe at 7-5. In the second set which proved to be the last. Miss Jones made a determined stand, many of the games being deuced a number of times, but Mrs. Monroe kept her court covered at all times, and by well placed base-line shots, or frequently coming into the net for effective kills, brought the match to a close at 6-4, thereby winning for the third time the title and the handsome trophy cup.

WHITE MOUNTAIN CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE third annual tournament for the Championship of the White Mountains, held on the courts of the Crawford House Tennis Club at Crawford Notch, New Hampshire, showed an improvement over previous events both in the number of entries and the quality of play of past seasons. The week was notable alike for good sport and good fellowship.

Irving Wright was the star of the tournament, wresting the Challenge Cup from Russ, who had held it two years, and with Dabney for a partner, taking the Doubles trophies as well. In the Singles he disposed of F. W. Cole in the Fourth Round, Inman in the Semi-Finals and Jones in the Finals. Cole was the only one of the three to get a set, but Jones put up an exceedingly good game and each of the three sets required extra games. In these matches, as in the Challenge Round, Wright was too steady and too resourceful. He adapted himself easily to any style of play and was particularly good overhead.

In Doubles Cole and Inman made a very good impression in their early matches and many picked them to win. In the Semi-Final Round they met Jones and Henshaw. With the score one set-all, play had to be stopped on account of darkness. The next day the match was replayed from the start. The Providence pair seemed to have guaged their opponents and won easily.

Wright and Dabney came through to the Finals, defeating Page and Bradford in the First Round and Russ and Cresson, last year's winners, in the Second, both matches being in straight sets. In the Finals they seemed to be off for one set, which they lost at 6-1. Thereafter their play was well-balanced and steady, the features being Wright's smashing and Dabney's passing strokes.

LAWN TENNIS IN THE WEST.

TENNIS IN AND ABOUT CHICAGO.

THE tennis season of 1908 was unquestionably marked by a great return of public interest in the game throughout the West. In Chicago this was made noticeable by the necessity of increasing the facilities for public play in the city's parks. In fact so great and insistent was this demand that the park boards finally met the popular demand by not only adding courts but also throwing open the grounds set apart for tennis for Sunday play—a distinct departure from the traditional policy of the park commissioners. In the clubs also the increase in interest was felt and in all of them the membership was fully up to the highest quoto allowed. The active play among the club members was an especially pleasing feature and the club tournaments at all of the clubs invariably drew large entry lists. The open tournaments, however, failed to bring out play of unusual quality and much disappointment was felt in the non-appearance during the season of many of the best of the Western players. Kreigh Collins was again out of the game and will probably never again participate in open events owing to his eye trouble; Heath Byford likewise failed to return to the game, while Ward C. Burton, the Minneapolis star, was kept out owing to illness. James J. Forstall was away in Europe and Rueben G. Hunt failed to come East for the Western season. Carr Neel also disappointed his Chicago admirers by allowing his titles, won in 1907, to go by default. The absence of these men therefore made the tournaments seem unusually dull, although all of the veterans and many of the younger players improved.

Of the women the absence of many good players was keenly felt and interest in their events consequently fell off sadly. Mrs. Robert Williams, the brilliant winner of the Illinois and Western tournaments of 1907, removed to Boston and was lost to the game owing to family cares. So slack was the interest among the women players in fact that the Western tournaments excepting Singles were declared off and social events, without fee, substituted in order to take care of the few women that responded to the call for entries.

J. ALLEN ROSS
Western Intercollegiate Champion

THE WESTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE AND INTERSCHOLASTIC TOURNAMENTS.

The first tournaments of importance in the West were the Western Intercollegiate and Western Interscholastic tournaments, which were played on the courts of the University of Chicago. The first of these was played on June 15 and following days. It drew entries from nearly all of the leading Western universities and was well attended. The courts are ideally situated and are among the finest clay courts in the West, the play being consequently of a high order. In both the Singles and Doubles events the University of Chicago carried off first honors, thus scoring the two points necessary to secure for that institution permanent possession of the trophy. In the Singles J. Allen Ross, the former National Interscholastic Champion, made his first appearance in intercollegiate company and won the title fairly easily, defeating Muir of Minnesota in the Final Round, 6-1, 6-4, 10-8, while Ross and Hart of Chicago took first place in the Doubles.

WESTERN INTERSCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONSHIP.

In the Western Interscholastic Championship held immediately after the intercollegiate event, the honors were taken in the Singles by R. Shields, representing the Calumet High School, who defeated Byford of the University High School after a hard five-set match (6-3, 6-1, 3-6, 4-6, 6-1) in the Final Round. In the Doubles the Evanston Academy represented by K. Bragg and Foster came out victorious. The field was unusually large and classy and nearly all of the leading "prep" schools were represented.

THE OPEN TOURNAMENTS.

Of the open tournaments only two of importance were played in Chicago last year—the Illinois and Western Championships, The Wanderers Cricket and Athletic Club held its usual open event scheduled, but it is said that friction between the tennis and cricket enthusiasts was responsible for its cancellation. So that with this event removed there remained but two open tournaments in the Chicago district. In the place of the Wanderers' tournament, however, the Onwentsia Club of Lake Forest filled in by scheduling a Round Robin Invitation Doubles event which was played during the week prior to the Western and resulted in some interesting matches, and won by H. L. Waidner and J. C. Neely.

THE SEASON IN THE CHICAGO TENNIS LEAGUE.

Among the clubs themselves the chief interest of the season centered in the play in the Chicago Tennis League. Five clubs competed in the league matches last year—six men in the Singles and three teams in the Doubles representing each of the clubs in each of the matches. The schedule was well arranged and large galleries turned out to see the contests. The method of counting was altered slightly, each match won scoring one point in favor of the victorious club, where heretofore the entire team match was counted as a win or a loss. It was believed that this would discourage the defaulting of individual matches and the scheme worked out well and will be followed again the coming season. The fight in the league was especially severe among the three leading clubs and resolved itself into a three-cornered contest between the Kenwood, Aztec and University of Chicago Clubs.

WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP

The twenty-first annual Western Championship was decided on the courts of the Kenwood Country Club of Chicago during the week of July 25 under the most favorable conditions, excepting for the oppressive heat which at times bothered the players. In this event L. Harry Waidner ran through the field in the Singles quite easily, where he met Charles S. Peters in the Final Round. Peters started out well and took the first set, but Waidner came back strong and took the next three in succession, winning the match, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1. In the Challenge Round Waidner faced Nat Emerson, the holder of the title, and here once more history repeated when after the most gruelling, exciting match ever seen on a Western court the Cincinnatian was returned the winner, 8-10, 6-0, 3-6, 6-1, 7-5. Several times Waidner had this match within a point, the ball "letting" at one crucial period and saving the match for Emerson.

In the Men's Doubles Waidner and Emerson, paired together, won out hands down defeating Hayes and Peters by default in the Final Round through an unfortunate condition of affairs that prevented the playing of the match.

In the Women's Singles the title was retained by Miss Carrie B. Neely, who defeated Miss Miriam Steever (challenger) after one of their famous long-drawn out matches—the final score being, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2. The Women's Doubles was won by Miss Neely and Mrs. Barnes, and the Mixed Doubles by Miss Steever and Mr. Ricker.

NATIONAL DOUBLES PRELIMINARY.

With the awarding of the Western Championships to the Onwentsia Club for 1909, together with the awarding to the same club of the Preliminary Round-Robin Doubles, for the right of challenging for the National Doubles title at Newport, the season of 1909 is eagerly looked forward to in the West and in Chicago especially, and it is thought that the game will sustain an even greater boom in popular interest during the coming season, as the Western Association has announced its intention of sparing no means to secure for Chicago the best players from all sections of the country. The Preliminary Doubles will be especially welcomed to Chicago this year, which will be the first since 1893 that the Western enthusiasts have had the opportunity of witnessing an event of national importance.

MEXICO CITY TOURNAMENT.

THE first open lawn tennis tournament for the Championship of the Republic of Mexico took place April 11 and following days on the dirt courts of the Mexico Country Club. There was quite an interest in the tournament owing to a good entry list of visiting players, including Clarence Hobart, Irving Wright, George Wagner, Semp Russ, Charles Cresson, A. V. Duncan and a number of Texas players who made the trip in a special car in charge of the president of the Texas Lawn Tennis Association, E. L. Scott.

The playing of the visitors was not up to their reputation owing principally to the bright light which takes time to become accustomed to.

The playing of Claude Butlin, winner of the Singles, and Harvey and Paul MacQuiston (of Mexico City), winners of the Doubles, was very strong, they outplaying the visitors all through the tournament.

Large crowds were present during the week, much interest being shown in the different matches, particularly the Finals in Singles and Doubles.

The tournament was a grand success and the visiting players returned home much pleased with the kind treatment they received at the hands of the tennis committee and the members of the Country and University Clubs where they were entertained.

CHAMPIONSHIPS OF PACIFIC NORTHWEST.

THE eighteenth annual tournament for the Championships of the Pacific Northwest was held as usual by the Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club, Washington August 3 to 8, at Tacoma, Washington. The entry list was as usual quite representative, all the strong players in the jurisdiction being present, with but two exceptions, McBurney of Spokane and Schwengers of Victoria. California was represented by Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, Lou R. Freeman, and E. Jordan. The Doubles event was exceptionally interesting, and in fact, the only Doubles contest in the Pacific Northwest last season. At all the other tournaments the strong pairs were so broken up that one pair always had a walk away. At Tacoma there were four pairs in the running: Freeman and Walter A. Goss of Portland, who won the tournament; S. L. Russell and Joe C. Tyler, the famous Seattle pair; Payne and Armstrong of Tacoma, the International Champions, and Jordan and Breeze. In the Singles, Freeman beat Tyler in straight sets, from the back court. Jordan defeated Goss rather easily, but was defeated by Payne. In the Finals Freeman took the first set, 7-5, and Payne the second set, 6-4, when Freeman retired Freeman's Singles game is not what it used to be. Apparently his health is not the best, and he refuses to run to the net as he invariably used to do.

Miss Hotchkiss had things all her own way in the Ladies' Singles and Doubles, but tasted defeat in the Mixed Doubles, the first and only time in her Northern trip.

NEW ENGLAND INTERCOLLEGIATE TOURNAMENT.

THE ninth annual tournament of the New England Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association was held on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club on the week beginning May 25. It was marked by an unusually high standard of play in the Singles, but the Doubles were disappointing in form throughout. In the Singles, T. K. Thompson of Williams and W. C. White of Wesleyan were the favorites, but S. B. Smith of Dartmouth proved to be the proverbial dark horse, and defeated Thompson in the Semi-Finals and his team mate, L. F. Stern of Dartmouth, in the Finals with ease, not being forced to go a deuce set in either case.

In the Doubles, the teams from Technology and Amherst were the favorites, but Technology, after defeating Amherst in the First Round, lost to Williams, whose team in turn lost to Wesleyan in the Finals by a score of 3 sets to one. The play throughout the Doubles was most erratic, and far below that displayed in former years.

INTERSCHOLASTIC NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE seventeenth annual tournament for the National Interscholastic Lawn Tennis Championship took place at Newport during the week of the National Championship. There were four universities represented as follows:

Dean Mathey	Princeton
E. H. Whitney	Harvard
Church	Columbia
Babcock	Cornell

Good all-around tennis was shown by the different players and a general improvement over the play of past seasons.

As Dean Mathey of Princeton had more tournament experience than the other players it helped him in his matches and made him the National Interscholastic Champion.

LAWN TENNIS IN CALIFORNIA.

PACIFIC STATES CHAMPIONSHIP.

THE Pacific States Championship of 1908 commencing the week of September 7 and ending the following week (19th) proved to be extra attractive to the lawn tennis players of California owing to the visit of the three Eastern players, Irving Wright, Nat. Niles and Wallace Johnson.

The tournament was held on the asphalt courts at Del Monte. No better place for a tournament could be selected as the hotel and surroundings are most inviting and fine for a week's outing.

All the events were successfully run off; many well-played and hard-fought matches were contested during the tournament both in Singles and Doubles. The Eastern visitors had to battle hard to get as far in the tournament as they did, finding the pace set for them by the California players rather fast as the courts caused quick bounds to the ball and somewhat of a different game than is played on grass or dirt, but not enough difference to interfere with Eastern players' game. The all round play of Long, McLoughlin, Gardner, Bundy and Janes was of the best, particularly the two former.

The ladies are all strong players, those in particular are the Misses Sutton, Mrs. Farquhar (formerly Miss Jones and twice a National Champion), Misses Hotchkiss, Ryan and Myer.

The junior players of which there are a number, are most promising for the future of the game in California. The two who played in the Finals of the Junior department, Robert Strachan and Charles Rogers, played the different strokes in good form and used judgment in placing the ball.

The treatment the Eastern men received at the hands of the tournament committee and the players was most pleasant and everything was done to make their visit a most enjoyable one.

LAWN TENNIS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Tennis in and around San Francisco has seen a very successful season in the year of 1908. It is safe to say that there are more devo ees than ever before in this vicinity. More clubs are being organized—Santa Rosa, Berkeley and Oakland being three very large and active tennis organizations started since the first of the year. Golden Gate Park is a great tennis center now and all of the best players in the city and from about the bay take part in tournaments held on its courts. The visit of he Eastern team, Irving Wright, Nat. Niles and W. F. Johnson to our Del Monte event has given a great impetus to the game and the season of 1909 will be a busy one.

The San Francisco Championship

Was held during the latter part of May on the courts of the California Lawn Tennis Club and although the entry list was small, it included all of the best players in the city. M. McLoughlin successfully defended his title and obtained his second win on the beautiful Grant trophy, which must be won three times. This trophy was won in 1903 by J. D. McGavin, 1904 by C. P. Murdock, 1905 by C. R. Gardner, 1906 by Charles Foley, 1907 by M. E. McLoughlin and once again in 1908 by the same man.

G. Janes won from Charles Foley in a hard three-set match, but fell before Long's onslaught. This match was also a close one, however, and Long was forced to his utmost to take the measure of the little man. The score was 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. In the Semi-Finals of the other half C. Gardner defeated H. Long in a tremendous three-set match which went to fifty games before he was declared the victor.

M. Long put up a great game in the Finals with Gardner. He put the finishing touches to that which his brother had started in the morning and won almost as he pleased.

The Challenge match was a dandy. Long started off at a great pace and was never headed in the first two sets. Notwithstanding, the games were all close and the playing brilliant. McLoughlin seemed a bit nervous and failed to assume the net as regularly as is his custom. This may partly have been due to the fact that Long often and more than often passed him down the sides and with cross court shots. At the beginning of the third set it looked as if Long would surely win, but he became careless. McLoughlin, quick to see his advantage, soon regained his confidence and changed his tactics. Having won the third set 6-3 he came through with a wonderful burst of speed in the fourth and dropped but one game. Long had lost his assurance and failed to play the same brand of tennis that had characterized his previous play and in the last set he did well to get the three games which McLoughlin dropped in winning the set and match. Score, 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

DEAN MATHEY
National Interscholastic Champion

average and the closeness of many of the most important matches kept the spectators in a state of expectation and excitement as was evidenced by a constantly increasing attendance resulting in a record-breaking grand stand on the last afternoon.

Open Singles.

There were forty-six entries in the Open Singles, the most prominent of which were A. E. Bell, Southern California Champion in 1901, 1902 and 1903, Eugene Overton, Southern California Champion in 1904 and 1905, T. C. Bundy, winner of the Colorado, Long Beach and Venice tournaments this year, Charles Rogers, Interscholastic Champion of Southern California. At the outset the wiseacres predicted that the winner would be returned from among Bundy, Bell, Overton, Browne, Sinsabaugh and Wayne, with Bundy and Bell having the best chances.

This forecast proved to be a good one as Bundy defeated Bell in the Finals by a score of 6-1, 6-2, 5-7, 6-1, thus winning the tournament and also the Championship, as last year's Champion, Melville H. Long of San Francisco, owing to summer school work, did not come down to defend his title.

Bundy proved decisively that he was the best player in the South by defeating in turn such men as Harry Rogers, Charles B. Hopper, A. V. Duncan, Claude Wayne and A. E. Bell, losing only one set in the tournament and winning a total of 83 games as against a total of 31 games lost.

His winning the Championship for 1908 proved a most popular victory, as he is a thorough, good sportsman and has been "knocking at the door" for several years.

Ladies' Singles.

The presence of our redoubtable Champion, Miss May Sutton, lent the greatest interest to this event, as owing to her journeyings eastward and abroad, she has not contested in any Southern California Championship Tourney for several years. As her sister, Miss Florence Sutton, won the Championship in 1907, it was therefore necessary for "Miss May" to play through this tournament which, as a matter of course, she did, winning the tournament and Championship without the loss of a set.

Ladies' Singles Special

In order to encourage new women players who would otherwise not enter the tournaments just to be unmercifully beaten by one of the Suttons, the association several years ago inaugurated an event which has proven to be popular among both players and spectators alike. It is a special event for ladies barring anyone who has ever won an open tournament. In this event there were eight entries, the winner being Miss Mary Browne, who won without the loss of a set. Miss Browne defeated Miss Laura McVay in one Semi-Final match, while Miss Helene McVay won from Miss Fanny Rowan in the other Semi-Final by the close score of 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. In the Final, Miss Browne defeated Miss Helene McVay, 6-0, 6-3. This is the first tournament in which the Misses McVay have ever competed and their good showing is therefore particularly gratifying.

Junior Singles.

Eleven entries in the Junior Singles brought out some promising youngsters, some of whom are already making our first-class veterans "step some." Ward Dawson, Winfred Mace and Charles Rogers were thought to have the best chance to win the much-coveted first prize offered by the association, a trip including all expenses to the Pacific States Championship tournament at Del Monte, Cal., in September, to play in the Junior event as Southern California's representative, which was won by Rogers

Gentlemen's Doubles.

From the first, the sixteen teams entered in Men's Doubles promised many snappy matches, with perhaps the Rogers Brothers, Bundy and Overton, Wayne and Variel, or Bell and Way looking the likeliest bidders for final honors. However, even that prospect fell short of what the outcome proved. Many exciting matches were played before Bell and Way won the tournament, which entitled them to meet the Champions, Sinsabaugh and Brown. This proved to be a hard-fought and exciting five-set match which was won by the Champions by the score of 10-8, 4-6, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Mixed Doubles.

In Southern California, perhaps, more than any other locality, Mixed Doubles is a most important factor in the tennis tournaments. Probably the presence of the Sutton sisters accounts for this unusual interest, for their games almost qualifies them to a place among the men. For that reason this Final gave promise of a sensation, two Suttons contesting, paired with two of the best players in the South. But the match was not up to par. Both men were greatly fatigued from their Men's Doubles, which match had just preceded this, and the victory went slowly but surely to "May" and Sinsabaugh, 6-3, 6-3.

The tournament was brought to a most successful close Saturday evening with a banquet and ball at the magnificent Hotel Virginia, during which the prizes were presented to the various successful aspirants. The tournament was voted by one and all to be the best ever held in Southern California.

THE OJAI VALLEY TOURNAMENT.

The annual Ojai Valley tournament took place on the courts at Nordhoff, Cal., April 9 and following days. The entry list was a good one comprising such leading players in Northern and Southern California as McLoughlin, Gardner, Bundy, Sinsabaugh, Freeman, Miss May Sutton, Miss Florence Sutton, Mrs. Farquhar, Mrs. Bruce and Miss Ryan, which resulted as expected in an interesting tournament and many well contested matches being played. There were five events: The Men's Singles, which was won by C. R. Gardner, the Men's Doubles which were won by McLoughlin and Gardner, Ladies' Open Singles won by Miss May Sutton, Ladies' Open Doubles won by Miss May Sutton and Miss Ryan, and the Interscholastic event which was the attraction of the tournament. Eighteen schools were represented by two boys from each and six girls' schools were entered in the young ladies' events. Charles Rogers of Los Angeles won the boy's tournament and Miss Ryan of Marlborough School won the girls.

Great credit is due W. L. Thatcher, of Thatcher School, in the Ojai Valley for his management of the events, together with the tournament committee he worked faithfully and hard to have things run smoothly.

A dance at the Foothills Hotel, band concert and reception on the courts and the final reception and dance at the Thatcher School went to make the social side of the tournament a grand success.

LAWN TENNIS IN CANADA

THE CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

AT annual meeting of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, held in Toronto in the spring, it was decided to enlarge the scope of the association by putting representatives from each province in Canada on the general committee, and at the request of the Montreal representative the annual tournament was given to Montreal. This tournament has always been held at Niagara-on-the-Lake in the past, and it was an experiment to see what Montreal could do. The local committee A. C. Dunlop and H. M. Suckling, took the matter in hand, and on August 1 the biggest tournament ever held in Montreal was started on the beautiful grass courts of the Mount Royal, Lawn Tennis Club. There were over 150 entries from everywhere in Eastern Canada, among them Ross-Foulkes, the Canadian Champion, from Ottawa, Bogs from Barrie, McAvity, Stewart and Inches from St. John, N. B., Miss Moyes and Miss Summerhayes from Toronto, and several Toronto men who entered, but did not show up. T. Y. Sherwell of Montreal won all the open events. He played a strong heady game through all his matches not being really pressed in any. In the Finals of the Open Championship he had a hard fight with the H. M. Suckling, the match going to four sets, but Sherwell's low swift screw balls into the corners of the court, and his deadly volleying at the net proved sure winners. Foulkes, the former Canadian Champion, came down to defend his Cup, and this was the best match of the series, several hundred people surrounding the championship court when the game started. Foulkes had not had much practise and was off his game, though he put up a plucky fight to the end. Some of the rallies were beautiful, Sherwell playing at the net most of the time and Foulkes preferring the back of the court. Sherwell won, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

The Open Doubles were won by A. C. Dunlop and H. M. Suckling, this pair not losing a set during the tournament, although a 12-10 in the Finals was a close call. Veysey and Drew, both Englishmen, were the runners-up, and gave a beautiful exhibition of Doubles, their play at times being spectacular, but not steady enough. Miss Lois Moyes of Toronto was on hand to defend her Cup. Her play was far ahead of the local ladies pitted against her and she won the Cup for the third time. It now becomes her property. Miss Evelyn Clay beat Miss Hague and was the challenger for the Cup. A dark horse, E. E. Palmer, with a big handicap, won the Handicap and also Novice Singles. The tournament was a success from every point of view. The weather was perfect and the courts in fine condition.

Lunch and afternoon tea were served on the grounds every day, the attendance was good, and the gallery most enthusiastic. Dinners and theatre parties for the visitors in which the ladies joined were the order every night, and everyone voted the tournament a big success. The Cups and prizes were given out by the president of the club, M. A. D. Anderson at the close of the tournament on Wednesday.

INTERNATIONAL TOURNAMENT.

The old and attractive annual International Lawn Tennis tournament took place as usual on the courts of the Queens Royal Hotel, Niagara-on-the Lake, Canada, on August 25 and following days and there is no better place to spend a week's outing for amusement or rest. There was a good entry list of over forty in the Singles and sixteen teams in Doubles. Nat. Niles of Harvard University won the open after a hard match with Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia who should really have been the victor, but the play was to often delayed owing to Niles being taken with a cramp in his leg which threw Johnson off his game. Niles in his match in the Challenge Round against Irving Wright after being completely out-played by Wright in the two first sets got started and played some very lively tennis, winning the next three sets and with it the title of International Champion.

The Doubles were won by Emerson and Wright; the Ladies' Singles by Miss Wagner of West Side Club of New York. Thus ended a most pleasant week's tennis, particularly to the guests of the hotel and visitors from Toronto and Buffalo.

ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIP.

That tennis is rapidly obtaining a stronghold on the affections of the Canadian people was evidenced by the large entry list and enthusiasm with which the Ontario Championships were run off at the courts of the Toronto Tennis Club in the first week of September, 1908.

The weather throughout the week was ideal and play was continuous each morning from 10 o'clock until dusk.

In addition to all the Toronto experts there was a large entry list from outside places. We had the pleasure of renewing our acquaintance with Johnnie Allen, recently of New York, but now of Cobalt, whom all readers of the "Guide" will remember as the Doubles partner of H. H. Hackett. Allen displayed all his old-time skill and experienced little difficulty in getting into the Finals of the Open Singles. Here he met Robert Baird of the Rusholme Tennis Club. The match between these two men brought out the best tennis of the year and Baird only succeeded in winning out after the hardest kind of a struggle. Allen took the first set quite easily and time and again was within a stroke of the second set, but Baird never lost his nerve and eventually wore his lighter opponent down, winning by the following score, 4-6, 14-12, 8-6,t6-4. This well-earned victory won for Baird the right to challenge the Ontario Champion, E. R. Paterson, the holder of the Cup. Paterson did not play with his old-time vigor and Baird won the match in straight sets by 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

The Finals in the Men's Championship Doubles resulted in a stubborn contest between the old Toronto Club veterans, McMaster and Glassco, and Burns and Hall, the latter pair eventually winning by 6-4, 7-5, 6-4. This victory entitled the winners to challenge Messr. Baird and Witchall, holders of the Cup, who successfully defended their title, winning from the Toronto pair in three close sets, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

Miss Lois Moyes, the Canadian Lady Champion, retained her title without difficulty, defeating Mrs. Belson of Welland, Ontario, in straight sets.

George Wagner of Buffalo, L. Wick of Cleveland, and the redoubtable Harry Avery of Detroit, were guests of the Toronto Club during the tennis week.

QUEBEC CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association held their annual tournament on the courts of the Mount Royal Lawn Tennis Club during the first two weeks in September, 1908. Owing to the fact that the big tournament the Canadian Championship, had been held here earlier in the summer, it was only natural that it should interfere to some extent with this one. No outside clubs were represented, the tournament really being a city one, at the same time the local players showed keen interest and some fine matches marked the final games. J. Y. Sherwell again proved his superiority by successfully defending the Quebec Championship Cup. As this is his third successful win, the large silver Cup now becomes his property. His opponent in the Chal lenge Round was A. C. Dunlop, who had a great fight in the Finals G. W. Grier. These two had met in several Finals before and each was determined to win. The match took the best part of three hours and the score will show how stubbornly it was fought out. Dunlop finally won, 8-6, 6-3, 5-7, 9-7. Sherwell beat Dunlop, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3.

A. Grier, a young player with a big handicap, played very steadily and won the Handicap easily. Mrs. McCullock, the holder of the Ladies' Championship was in England and could not defend her title, which Miss Hague won.

Mens' Singles.

First Round: Wickes beat Gaunt; Palmer beat Prevost; Dunlop beat Feray; Cassils beat Holland, 6-4, 6-1; Grier beat Kellam, 6-0, 6-0; Fosbery beat Suckling; Veysey beat McCarthy.

Semi-Final Round: Dunlop beat Andras, 6-2, 6-4; Grier beat Veysey, by default.

Final Round: Dunlop beat Grier, 8-6, 6-3, 5-7, 9-7.

Winner to play J. Y. Sherwell, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3.

NOVA SCOTIA LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

The eighth annual tournament of this association was held on August 10 to 15 at Truro, Nova Scotia under the auspices of the Truro Lawn Tennis Club, who placed their beautiful grounds at the disposal of the association. There was a large number of clubs represented and more players took part than last year and the playing, taking it all through, was of higher order. A feature of the tournament was the playing for the Championship in the Men's Doubles between W. Ritchie and F. T. Handsombody, Wanderers' Club versus A. C. Wiswell and E. Foster, South End Club, the latter players winning out.

According to the rules the winners of last year's Championship could not take part in the tournament but were called upon to defend their title against the successful ones of this year's tournament who were as follows:

The Scores:

Miss M. Lawson defeated Miss H. Strachan.

A. C. WISWELL

Single and Double Champion, Nova Scotia Tennis Asso. Tournament

Ladies' Doubles.

Mrs. Handsombody and Miss Allen beat Miss Bigelow and Miss Linton.

Following this the Champions of the Province, who were called upon to defend their titles played. E. C. Grant, the Champion, successfully defended his position by defeating A. C. Wiswell and Mrs. F. T. Handsombody accomplished the same feat against Miss M. Lawson. J. and. W. B. Ritchie, Champions of last year's not being present to defend their title forfeited same to A. C. Wiswell and E. Foster, winners of the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Handsombody, last year's winners, having played separately in the tournament, could not defend their title against Handsombody and Miss Lawson, this year's winners, who accordingly won by default. The same state of affairs applied to the Ladies' Doubles. Mrs. Handsombody and Miss M. Lawson could not defend their title. Mrs. Handsombody and Miss Allen won by default.

Splendid prizes were presented to the tournament, winners and to the holders of the Championship, special gold badges. The M. S. Brown Trophy, won last year by the South End Club, was again captured by that club on points.

The Captain Carlow Cup for gentlemen's Singles was presented to the winner, A. C. Wiswell. L. A. Gastonguay, the newly-elected Hon. secretary-treasurer, was awarded the prize for the most efficient and popular umpire.

Fine weather was the order of the day and this allowed the tournament to get through nicely taking the whole week. The Truro Club furnished entertainment of a varied sort consisting of a Garden Party at Senator Mackay's, a dance at the Agricultural Hall, also an excursion on special train to Tolleigh Lake, and were unceasing in their efforts to give all a good time. Everyone present during the tournament enjoyed themselves from a tennis standpoint and also socially.

The St. George's Lawn Tennis Club of Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, kindly invited the association to hold its tournament on their ground next year, 1909, which invitation was accepted.

The association is also thinking if at all possible of getting the Canadian Championship meet held here next year, 1909, and in event of this we would be pleased to have some American players visit us. Grass and clay courts are used in this province, but the tendency is for clay courts, and no doubt next year will see more of the clay court.

The annual meeting being held the election of officers is as follows:

Hon. President—J. C. Lithgow, Halifax, N. S.

President—J. W. Vidito, Dartmouth, N. S.

Vice-President—Dr. G. J. McDonald, New Glasgow, N. S.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

The twentieth annual open tennis tournament for the Championship of Western Pennsylvania in Singles was held on the grounds of the Pittsburgh Golf Club, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Monday, July 6 and following days. The tournament was the most successful and interesting that has ever taken place in this district, and attracted the best class of entries. There were 31 entries in the Singles, with such players as C. L. Childs, who held the title three times as Western Pennsylvania Champion; G. D. Edwards, former champion; E. Sunstein, formerly of Princeton:

P. D. Siverd, former Interscholastic Champion; C. M. Fincke, the old Yale baseball and football player; L. D. Waddell, the Yale baseball player; E. M. Byers, of national golf fame, and T. W. Stephens, a former Western Pennsylvania Champion.

In the Final Round Childs defeated Sunstein, 7-5, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4, after a very hard match in which both players fought for the position at the net. Both players were smashing and volleying beautifully and the match brought out the prettiest tennis that has been played in Pittsburgh for some time.

In the Challenge match for the J. C. Grogan Cup, C. L. Childs (challenger) defeated W. L. Myers (defender), 9-7, 6-4, 6-3. Childs was very steady throughout and Myers' form seemed to indicate a lack of hard practice, as he did not seem to be able to control his serve or ground stroke.

The audience was the largest that has ever attended a tennis tournament in Pittsburgh and was very appreciative of the many fine plays that were made.

C. L. Childs now holds one leg on the new Challenge Cup which was won in 1907 by W. L. Myers and in 1906 by T. W. Stephens, the previous Cup having been won three times by C. L. Childs, and consequently became his personal property.

VIRGINIA STATE TOURNAMENT.

The eighth annual lawn tennis tournament for the Championship of Virginia was held under the auspices of the Country Club of Norfolk, Va., during the week of June 15, 1908.

The weather conditions were excellent, all that could have been wished for, and although the number of out-of-town entries was not large, great interest was created by the playing of Franklin Geoghegan of Washington, D. C., who won all his matches against the best Norfolk players and the Championship Round from Hugh G. Whitehead, who already had two legs on the trophy.

Messrs. Wash, Reed and Hugh G. Whitehead won for the second time the Championship in Doubles without much opposition, and Miss M. C. Evans of Richmond won the Ladies' Championship in an interesting match against Mrs. Wallington Hardy of Norfolk.

In 1909 the Country Club is anxious to have more players from other cities, and will probably hold the Virginia tournament later in June in order to enable more college men to be present.

The tennis season in Norfolk was the most successful and enthusiastic in its history and the local players are very proud that Norfolk's representatives at Atlanta, Ga., J. H. Winston, and Hugh G. Whitehead were winners of the Championship of the South, and therefore competed at Bay Ridge against the East and West.

Although their showing in New York was a disappointment to their friends, the experience will prove very beneficial to Southern players, and will result in later years in closer competitions in the Double Championship among the East, West and South.

Norfolk's new Country Club, situated on a beautiful body of land in full view of the river, will be completed this winter, and will make a most attractive spot for the Virginia tournaments in the future.

WEST VIRGINIA STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The ideal weather conditions, the large and fashionable gatherings of enthusiastic spectators, the splendid courts and the high class tennis exhibited, all contributed to the unqualified success of the third annual Invitation tennis tournament, for the Championship of West Virginia, held at the Parkersburg Country Club on August 24, 25 and 26, 1908. Representative players from all parts of the state were present to compete for the handsome Challenge Cup, and no effort was spared by the management to make the stay of the visitors most pleasant and agreeable. Numerous informal affairs and the big club dance given in honor of the visiting players on the last day, were the social features of the week.

Deserving of special mention was the excellent form displayed by E. I. Hanlon, of Sistersville, W. Va., who played through to the Final Round, and by the default of Everett Drennen, earned the right to challenge the holder of the three-year Cup, Ward White.

Hanlon, however, seemed to be unable to get going in the Challenge match, which was quite a disappointment, on account of the splendid showing he had made during his previous play, he was looked upon as having a fine chance to win, however, White won in three straight sets, thus giving the victor his second leg on the Challenge Cup.

Individual Cups were presented to E. I. Hanlon, winner in Singles, and to White and Drennen, winners in Doubles.

Handsome watch fobs were presented to the runner-up in Singles, Everett Drennen, and to the runners-up in Doubles, Hubbard and Fleming.

TRI-STATE TOURNAMENT.

Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky.

The tenth annual open tournament, held under the auspices of the Ohio Lawn Tennis Association for the Tri-State Championship on the courts of the Cincinnati Club, was a blue ribbon tennis feature. Those of us who were fortunate enough to be present have ample cause for congratulation, and those of you who were not there should certainly include Cincinnati in your 1909 lawn tennis itinerary. Under the leadership of P. B. Stanberry the tournament committee gave a most refreshing demonstration of the proper way to conduct a tournament. And those followers of the game who have had practical experience in tournament management will readily appreciate the magnitude of the task that confronts a committee which would successfully pilot a big tournament embracing five separate events and an entry list of one hundred and sixty individual entries. In the opinion of the writer the Tri-State tournament is surpassed by no tennis feature on the schedule. We are accustomed to see large galleries and mammoth entry lists at Newport and Longwood, and well remember and cherish dearly the courtesy which all receive at Southampton and Orange. But here in this Middle West feature we find a gallery which for numbers, enthusiasm and "tennis sense" is certainly not surpassed at any tournament in the United States. For the most part the grand stand at Newport is occupied by those who are present, not because of their tennis enthusiasm, but simply because it is the proper thing to do at that particular season of the year, whereas at the Tri-State we see a gallery each member of which is a tennis enthusiast. And the feminine portion of that Cincinnati gallery certainly losses nothing by comparison with the Newport elite. And in addition to this most seemly gallery the visiting players are at all times surrounded by the Southampton-Orange type of courtesy. The pleasure of the visiting players was also greatly enhanced through the efforts of the chairman of the entertainment committee, J. P. Kidney, who is by far the most artistic dispenser of refreshment that Cincinnati can boast. No matter how many miles separate you from Cincinnati, the last of August should see you on your way to the Tri-State if you wish to experience one of the richest of lawn tennis experiences.

The tournament of 1908 was not up to the usual standard in the way of entries. For one reason or another such sterling players as Little Palmer, Touchard, Mollenhauer and Dewhurst were compelled, at the last moment, to wire their inability to be present. The Eastern contingent, which ordinarily is extremely strong at this tournament, was thus reduced to Robert LeRoy, the holder, Chauncey Seaver, S. W. Merrihew and P. B. Hawk. The "star" entry of the tournament was, of course, the redoubtable "Nat" Emerson. This sterling player, fresh from his Newport successes where he achieved the most notable victories of any Western player since the palmy days of Kreigh Collins, and bearing the weight of his Western and Northwestern Championships upon his shoulders, was to demonstrate his prowess upon his native heath. He is the idol of all Cincinnati and a well chosen idol is he. Exponents of the game may well give full meed of praise to players possessing the true sportsmanship of Emerson.

The contests throughout the tournament went according to "past performances" so far as the main entries were concerned. Emerson defeated in succession Hawk and Seaver, both in five-set matches, the latter being a "hair raising" exhibition in which Seaver played excellent tennis, but Emerson was finally victorious. However, the really "big" event of a Championship tournament is, of course, the Challenge Match. In this case it brought Robert LeRoy and the idolized "Nat" into the roped arena. The class of the contestants augured well for a spectacular, long drawn out and hard-fought combat. It was not to be, however, for it was at once apparent, that Emerson was not in the form which had won him his season's laurels. We do not mean by this to detract one whit from the honor due to LeRoy. This most excellent player would certainly have won even with Emerson at his best for the classy tennis shown by the brilliant New Yorker was seldom excelled on any court during the season. Emerson was not in the least disgraced by his defeat, for none of the "topnotchers" excepting Champion Larned and Beals Wright (on his Newport or Australian form) could have sent Robert LeRoy to defeat the afternoon of his signal triumph over "Nat" Emerson.

Miss Marjorie Dodd and Miss Martha Kinsey, who contested in the Final Round of Ladies' Singles, would certainly be able to set a nice fast pace for some of the Eastern "cracks" at St. Martins. Cincinnati would be well represented if these young women were to try for Championship honors.

In the Men's Doubles Emerson and Hunt were at no time extended. The Mixed Doubles were captured by Miss McLaughlin and Dr. Karl Little who succeeded in handily winning from Miss Dodd and Dr. Hawk, and also came out victorious over Miss Kruse and Mr. Seaver after a rather strenuous session.

MONTANA STATE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The class of play and attendance at the fourteenth annual Montana state tournament held at Helena, Montana, August 17 to 22, was most gratifying. A week of beautiful weather, augmented greatly by the hospitality, attendance and applause of the fair devotees of the game early in the tournament, put every visitor at ease, and as a result each put forth his best efforts. The matches throughout were, with but few exceptions, hard fought, and in many instances, closer than the final scores would indicate.

The matches between Mosher of Butte, and Agar of Great Falls, Johnson of Helena and Mattison of Great Falls, Karsted of Butte and Burton of Butte, were perhaps the most noteworthy of the tournament, the class of tennis being of high order in each and the results uncertain until the last points had been played.

Burton of Butte, through brilliant and consistent work during the entire tournament, without question earned the right to challenge State Champion D. D. McLaughlin of Butte for supreme honors. This long, hard-fought five-set match was fraught with added interest by reason of the fact that its outcome was to decide, in case of a third victory by Champion McLaughlin, the ownership of the beautiful silver trophy, which for a decade and more has been the unattainable goal of every tennis player in the state.

The weather was perfect and the audience large, enthusiastic and impartial, and the fact that Burton lost, and McLaughlin, the grand old man of the tennis game in this state, won, is but another illustration of the old axiom that every rule has its exceptions. Youth did not come out victorious; McLaughlin, with his half century and more of years, perfect physical condition and untiring energy and unfailing accuracy and precision, emerged from the contest a winner, and apparently as fresh as at its commencement.

The business meeting resulted, after a spirited controversy, in the selection of an eastern city for the next meeting place of the tournament in 1909, the Livingston club, sponsors of the Hunters' Hot Springs' courts, convincing the meeting that the interests of tennis in Montana would be best subserved by such a choice. The state officers elected were the following: President, A. R. Mosher, Butte; vice-president, J. D. Miles, Livingston; secretary-treasurer, George M. Parker, Livingston.

OREGON STATE TOURNAMENT.

Portland felt proud. Indeed Portland felt very proud, for in the summer time came journeying from all directions a delegation of tennis players that would certainly grace the courts of any clime or country.

From the Sunny South came Lou Freeman, who renewed his old-time acquaintance and once more looked upon the Cups he used to take away so handily.

From Berkeley came that delightful and wonderful player, Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, and from Spokane came that stalwart, bright and shining light in Pacific Northwest tennis, Wallace A. McBurney, with his left-handed partner, Joseph Tyler.

Many lesser lights appeared on the scene and to make a perfect tournament Portland enjoyed the privilege of entertaining the guests on the grounds of the Irvington Tennis Club.

Everyone in Irvington kept open house and the week was full of enjoyment. An informal party on Monday night at the club house started the social activities and with several luncheons, an evening at "The Oaks," an auto touring evening and the Tennis Ball on Friday night, the week was quite complete.

Of tennis there can much be said and since Portland was the only tournament in which Wallace A. McBurney played, aside from his home town, it probably takes first place in the way of prominence in the Northwest circuit for 1908, since McBurney was ranked first by the ranking committee of the North Pacific International Lawn Tennis Association and were it possible, he doubtless would secure a rank up next to the top for the Pacific Coast.

What a pity he could not go to Del Monte this summer.

The wins were clean cut and without any question of doubt.

Miss Hotchkiss set at rest any chance for outsiders in the Ladies' Singles, Ladies' Doubles and Mixed Doubles.

Unfortunately Portland lost an opportunity in presenting a first-class team of Men's Doubles, and this event was not of any special interest and went quite easily to McBurney and Tyler.

The Gentlemen's Singles was a different proposition, and to follow the winner through his maze of wins and difficult situations takes mental activities worthy of a Napoleon. Several matches stand out as mile posts in his progress. Goss was his first man of any prominence, but he did not make much more than a reasonably decent fight. "Mac" had to to keep his wits about him but he was not pressed.

Jordan was the next trader who negotiated for the place. Here was some of the prettiest tennis ever played. What a wonder Jordan would make were he able to control himself and had a little better physique.

Lou Freeman should not have taken part in the Singles competition for he was unable to keep up the pace set by men in good trim and he was forced to default to McBurney after showing good form, although he did not show that he ever possessed the wonderful play of the latter.

The Challenge Round was somewhat of a foregone conclusion. Tyler and McBurney had met many times before, and while Mac occasionally has an off day he had the thing pretty well in hand when he faced Joe for the Oregon State Championship. Tyler is a fine player with no end of endurance and a wonderful propensity for doing the impossible.

He can stand on his head and play a half volley on his back hand at the same time, but this won't do against the tremendous game of Wallace A. McBurney.

McBurney is the same kind of a man that could get a lot of men over the Delaware, he would have captured Port Arthur if given the chance, and he would be just the fellow to tackle Jim Jeffries if he were so inclined and big enough.

He has the physique, the head, the tremendous capacity for work and the determination to do a good, clean job on a tennis court.

We in Portland take our hats off to our Champion, Wallace A. McBurney.

The third annual tournament of the above association was held on the the courts of the Toledo (Iowa) Lawn Tennis Club at Toledo, Iowa, July 28-31, 1908, and was one of the best ever held in the state.

In the Doubles contest the 1907 Champions, Kauffman and Trumbull, Conrad, Iowa, also retained their laurels in the 1908 meet, worsting their competitors, Stiger and St. Clair (Toledo), in a four-set series.

The annual meets of this association are of great interest to the lovers of good tennis in this part of the Middle West, and much interest is already being shown in the coming 1909 meet which will be held at Toledo, Iowa, July 6-9, 1909, and will be open to all comers.

MASSACHUSETTS STATE DOUBLES TOURNAMENT.

The Massachusetts State Doubles Championship took place on the fine clay courts of the Brae-Burn Country Club, West Newton, Mass., May 30 to June 6. Outside of the Longwood tournament this is one of the most important events in tennis in or about Boston, as it brings together our best players who are located in this part of the country, which is sure to cause many exciting matches to be played and always brings out a large and interesting gallery.

Beals Wright and Sulloway won the tournament by superior play, which entitled them to play Johnson Brothers (Charlie Johnson being in poor health for a week before the tournament naturally prevented them from playing their best game), holders of the Cup.

Wright was at his best and with Sulloway playing his usual steady game they proved the victors and the honor of the title of being the Massachusetts Doubles Champions.

The Kings County Tennis Club Open tournament began on the club's courts May 25 with a large entry list. The tournament was won by Fred Alexander, which entitled him to play Irving Wright, holder, whom he defeated rather easily by the score of 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

The Doubles were won by Hackett and Alexander defeating Ned Larned and Watson, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

The New York Tennis Club Open tournament began June 1 with a large entry list of the leading players in and about New York City, which caused many exciting games to be played. The Doubles were won by Hackett and Alexander defeating Pell and Watson, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

The tournament of the Englewood Field Club took place on their grounds at Englewood, N. J., July 11 and following days and was a great success in every way both in a good size entry list and large attendance throughout the week. The Singles were won by Palmer defeating Tallant, 6-3, 0-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The Doubles were won by Collester and Porter defeating Gordon and Henshaw, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

The open tournament for the Central Jersey Championship was held on the courts of the Trenton Country Club, N. J., June 16. Dean Mathey, the Interscholastic National Champion, won the tournament which gave him possession of the "Oaklands" Challenge Cup, which was held by P. B. Hawk, who was not present to defend the same.

The Doubles were won by Mathey and James.

The courts were in excellent shape and all the visiting players expressed themselves as having had a very pleasant time.

W. B. Cragin, Jr., of New York won the open tournament of the Scranton (Pa.) Country Club, played September 16, 17 and 18. He defeated G. C. Shafer, the former Columbia University crack, but not until five hard sets had been played. The Shafer brothers won the Doubles event, defeating McCreath and Bassell of Harrisburg in the Final Round, 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Louisa Twitchell of Hartford, Conn. won the Women's Singles event, defeating Miss Janet Storrs, 6-4, 8-6, while this pair also captured the Doubles event.

The Middle Atlantic tournament took place on the courts of the Bachelors' Club, Washington, D. C., May 25. C. B. Doyle, a home player (holder), defeated Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia (challenger) by a score of 6-4, 8-6, 9-7.

The Doubles were won by the Doyle Brothers who defeated Johnson and Glazebrook, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

The annual Old Dominion tournament took place on the courts of the Hermitage Golf Club, Richmond, Va., June 1. R. L. James of Philadelphia won the tournament by defeating J. Ballenger, 6-3, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5.

The Doubles were won by Ballenger and James, who defeated Blackwell and Pemberton, 6-0, 6-4, 6-2.

The Singles and Doubles matches between the Pittsburgh Golf Club and Allegheny Country Club played at Sewickley, Pa., May 30 was won by the former club by eight matches to five.

A handsome Cup was put up three years ago, to become the property of the club winning it seven times. By winning the first match this year the Pittsburgh Golf Club had won six times to the Allegheny Country Club's five times. The return match was played at the Pittsburgh Golf Club on June 20, and after some exceedingly close matches the Pittsburgh Golf Club finally won 8 to 4, thus securing permanent possession of the Cup.

The Nyack Country Club open tournament, which is one of the attractive tournaments of the season, took place on the club's clay courts Nyack, N. Y., on the banks of the Hudson river. Play opened August 31 with usual good entry list. H. J. Mollenhauer won the tournament and the Challenge Cup, F. G. Anderson (holder) not being present to defend, in the Final Mollenhauer defeated Torrence, 6-3, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4.

The Doubles were won by Mollenhauer and McMahon defeating Palmer and Connell, 6-2, 5-7, 6-8, 4-6, 7-5.

The lawn tennis season of 1908 has been a lively one with the tennis players of the Syracuse Country Club. The Club Championship was won by E. L. Robertson defeating A. D. Jenney in the Challenge Round. In Doubles Robertson and Jenney defeated Magee and Woodruff after a very exciting five-set match. Great interest was taken by the club members in the City Championships in Singles and Doubles, particularly the events with the Rochester team, each winning on their home courts when many well-contested matches were played. It is noticed that Fritz Ward, an old time successful player of the Rochester team, still plays a strong game, while James Randall, another old-timer of the Syracuse team, did not take an active part.

The Round Robin Invitation tournament in Doubles of the Larchmont Yacht Club which took place on the courts of the club in June, was quite a success and gave the club members some interesting Double matches to witness the players who took part, Beals Wright and Little, Ned Larned and Prentice, Irving Wright and Torrence, Pell and Watson. The tournament was won by Irving Wright and Torrence. The players were entertained at luncheon and taken abroad of Commodore Marshall's yacht Atlantic.

NATIONAL INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIPS.

HELD February 20, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27.

The year nineteen hundred and nine marks the tenth consecutive year, that the National Indoor Championships have been successully terminated at the Seventh Regiment Armory, New York City, and the championships which the Seventh Regiment inaugurated in February, 1900, have each year increased in popularity, until 1909 with an entry list of sixty-one in Singles and twenty-seven in Doubles, broke all former records for an indoor lawn tennis tournament of any kind, and the name af Cragin, which family of four brothers originated the idea of the "National Indoor Championships" in 1900, as previous to that time the only Indoor Championships were "Handicap" events and not sanctioned by the U. S. N. L. T. A., were as much in evidence as ever and their interest and enthusiasm help to make every year a success.

Theodore Roosevelt Pell, Champion of 1907, won the Championship without the loss of a set, the first time this has been accomplished since the tournament started in 1900, and Wylie C. Grant, four times Champion, for the first time in eight years missed the Final Round by being defeated by Pell in the Fourth round, 16-14, 9-7, in a gruelling match after Grant in the first set had led with the vantage game and 40-15 These two sets with Grant which were close all the way, and the first set against W. B. Cragin, Jr. in the Semi-Finals, when Cragin led Pell in the first set, 4-0, and 40-15, were the nearest that Pell came to losing a set. In the Finals against G. Carleton Shafer, although Pell did not show at his best, Shafer made an unexpectedly fine showing leading 3-2 in the first and third sets, being defeated 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

The Doubles were somewhat of a repetition of the Singles inasmuch as nearly all the favorites were drawn in the upper half. H. H. Hackett, last year's Champion in Doubles, with F. B. Alexander played with Raymond D. Little, but after two rounds were defeated by T. R. Pell and W. C. Grant, 7-5, 7-5, who went through the tournament without the loss of a set, narrowly escaping in the last set of the Final Round when after defeating W. B. Cragin, Jr., and M. S. Charlock the first two sets, 6-3, 6-2, Cragin and Charlock led 5-4, 40-15.

C. F. Touchard won the Consolation in a five-set match.

LAWN TENNIS NOTES.

In referring to their visit to Australia, the American team speak most highly of the way they were favored by the tennis committee who did everything to make their visit a pleasant one, while the umpire and linesmen's decisions were most satisfactory.

It is sure to add a new interest to the game in the West by having the preliminaries in Doubles between teams from the East, South, West and Pacific Coast played on the grass courts of the Onwentsia Golf Club, Lake Forest, which are located 30 miles out of Chicago, Ill. (See fixtures for date) the winner of which will be entitled to play the present Champions at Newport.

Upon the visit of the Eastern players to California last season to take part in the Pacific States Championship, the home players showed a keen interest in watching and noticing how different the style of play of the visitors was from their own, winning their strokes by placing the ball, while California players were more for winning their point by killing the ball or a severe passing stroke across court. What effect it will have on their play in going from asphalt to grass courts is hard to tell, though it bothered the Eastern men but little in making the change.

Beals Wright, upon his return home from his trip to Australia where he went as one of the team to play in the Davis Cup Matches, was given a dinner by his club, the Longwood Cricket Club, at which he gave a very interesting account of the hard-fought matches he and his partner Alexander had with the Australians, Brookes and Wilding.

Mrs. Sterry, who won the English Championship last year, has won it four times before. She plays a steady all-round game but not so brilliant or severe a stroke as the ex-Champion, Mrs. Chambers.

A. W. Gore, winner of the English Championship, has also won it three times. He is over forty years of age; his play is principally from the back of the court, his strokes are accurate with plenty of speed. He won the Indoor Championship the past winter.

Players and those interested in the game throughout the country, should subscribe and add their support to "American Lawn Tennis," which has during the past two years proven itself worthy of their support as the accounts of tournaments and items of interest with pictures of players and different club courts makes it a most attractive and interesting paper. Address S. W. Merrihew, Terminal Building, 41st St., and Park Avenue, New York City.

After many years trying the English Lawn Tennis Association started last year a school tournament (the same idea as the Interscholastic tournament in this country) which was most successful and from which England hopes to get her future Lawn Tennis Champions.

R. D. Wrenn, Beals Wright and Karl Behr were Interscholastic National Champions and have played on International teams.

The following was taken from an Australian paper:

"Although defeated, it will doubtless be gratifying to our esteemed visitors and their Association to know that this visit, which brought about the first International Lawn Tennis Contest in Australia, has given a tremendous stimulus, and has been of inestimable value to our favorite game in this quarter of the globe.

"This report would not be complete without referring to the particularly favorable impression universally created by our visitors both off and on the courts. They, after being thoroughly tested, signally proved themselves to be true sportsmen and worthy representatives of their great nation.

"Whilst justly lauding our opponents, we must not forget our own representatives. The heartiest thanks of our Association are due to N. E. Brooks and A. F. Wilding for so successfully and ably defending the coveted Cup. Both put forth their best efforts, and joined with our visitors in providing the finest display of lawn tennis ever seen in Australia or possibly elsewhere, and the most exciting and strenuous contest in the history of the International Matches."

Read carefully the revised Foot Fault Rule on page 12.

It is suggested that the most practical way to judge a foot fault is for the umpire to watch only the server's feet, and to determine when the service is delivered, by the sound of the impact of racket and ball.

The foot fault umpire should be in line with the base line.

The following instructions were given to the linesmen at the Davis Cup Matches played at Longwood last fall:

The linesmen's position is a responsible one, therefore, his attention should be fixed on his duty and he should neither converse nor should his decisions be influenced by the remarks of others.

Under no circumstances is a linesman to leave his post while the match is being played.

The only words a linesman should use are "out" or "fault" and these should be called out loudly, distinctly and promptly enough so that both players and the umpire may understand; if, however, a player asks for a decision (how is it?) while the ball is in play, and the ball is good, the linesman should say "play" in a quick clear and loud voice. (The word "play" is preferable to "good.")

Never render a decision before the ball strikes the ground, but if it strikes "out" as soon thereafter as possible.

When a ball lands obviously out no decision need be called, but all balls landing within 3 feet outside of the line taken by the linesman should be called "out" as the players are frequently not in the right position to see.

A linesman is placed in a position to decide as best he can on the line in question and his decision is final whether right or wrong.

Fred H. Hovey, the winner of the National Championship in 1895, has played but little tennis since that time, and is now an expert at Squash Racquets, being one of the team who won the New England Championship.

The Coronado Country Club tournament, held annually at Coronado, Cal., February 17 to 22, is the one in which the prominent tennis players of the Pacific Coast open their season. The different events this season were won as follows: Singles, McLaughlin; Doubles, Bundy and Sinsabaugh; Ladies' Singles, Miss May Sutton; Mixed Doubles, Miss Sutton and Mr. Sinsabaugh.

In tournament matches the linesmen are carefully selected and usually players of experience who are impartial. Now if a wrong decision is made should a player who is benefitted "throw" the next point by deliberately knocking the ball out or into the net? Of course the average onlooker applauds, but this is entirely wrong.

The players go on the court with the understanding to abide by the linesmen's and umpires' decisions and when they do not, it only cheapens them, makes them more timid in calling and harder for the committee to get men to serve as linesmen. It also puts the opposing player in a peculiar position. Such a thing should not be encouraged as decisions usually even up in a match.

This point occurred several times last year and cannot be termed sportsmanlike.

Isaac Chambers, the experienced groundsman of the Longwood Club of Boston, gives the few following hints about grass courts:

There is no hard and fast rule or method for taking care of grass courts. Work which would be all right one day might be all wrong the next. For example: At times during the season cutting the grass once a week is sufficient, while at another time two or three cuttings are required, and during tournaments they must be cut every day; but for club use twice a week is a fair average. It is possible, during hot weather, to cut grass too short.

At Longwood, for four or five weeks before a big tournament we begin to pay a little extra attention to the lawn by way of watering a great deal, moving courts oftener. For example, some courts are not allowed to stay in one place more than one week, and others not more than three or four days. This prevents bare spots resulting from wear which would otherwise appear, no matter how small.

For club use at Longwood any number of courts up to twenty are needed, according to the time of season. These are rolled and marked every day, a twelve hundred pound roller being used, with brush in front, two or three times per week, or if conditions are favorable a three ton roller is put on once or twice a week. This roller is drawn by one horse and cannot be used when the grass is wet, or when the courts are too heavy without danger to horse and damage to lawn. For a week before and during a tournament, this roller is put on every day, and it is surprising how much rolling a lawn will stand before killing the grass. The courts should always be rolled and cut crosswise.

In June, for the Massachusetts State Championship twenty courts are used, at Longwood. Fifteen are placed side by side, twelve feet apart. For the Longwood open tournament in July twelve courts are used, more room being allowed players, twenty feet at the side and twenty-five to thirty at the end of the courts. For play in international matches, twenty-five feet at the side and thirty at the end are allowed.

History tells us that lawn tennis was first played with a cork ball, which was originally struck with the hand, much as in our present game of Hand-Ball, a bank of earth or mud about two feet high serving the same purpose as our modern net. As the game grew in severity a glove was used to cover the hand, as is often done today in Hand-Ball; then some pioneer introduced strings across the palm of the hand from thumb to fingers, and with these the ball was given greater impetus with less impact. It was a short jump from that to a frame-work for the strings. which was held first in the hand, and a handle for the frame soon followed, forming the crude model from which our familiar rackets used in so many ball games were all evolved.

How to Make a Lawn Tennis Court

In making a Lawn Tennis Court there should be, if possible, a clear margin of at least 12 feet on each side and 21 feet at each end of the court, or, between adjacent courts, 18 feet on each side; but should the courts be placed end to end, or end to side, there should be spaces of 42 feet or 33 feet respectively, and a back-net at least 8 feet high between.

The cheapest and most easy court to make is a

Clay Court

It is done by removing the sward from the lawn, taking care that the same is cut deep enough not to allow any of the grass roots to remain; there should be a space dug out 118 feet by 56 and about 6 or ten inches deep, fill in with yellow clay and cover with ½-inch of carefully sifted binding gravel, taking out all small stones to the size of a pea. wet well and roll into the foundation of clay, if the court continues to be soft or sticky spread more binding gravel over it, and continue to roll until the clay and gravel commences to bind and becomes firm. The maker of the court will have to use his own best judgment about this, as it's hard to decide the exact quantities of clay and binding gravel that should be used to cause the court to have the proper firmness.

In making the court there should be a gradual slope from the base lines to the centre, running across the court between the net posts should be built a blind drain. this is done to take off the water after a heavy rain.

A stone foundation is bad for a court as it becomes hard and dry and severe on a player's feet and legs to play on.

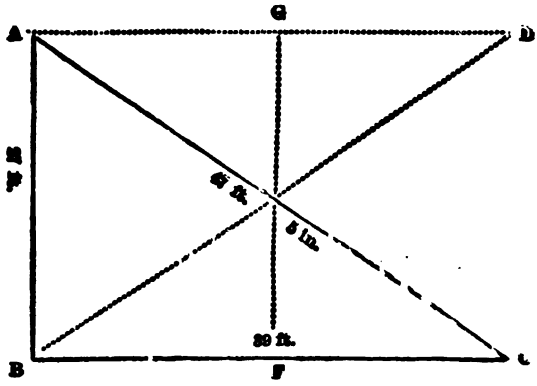
Grass Courts

These can be made in three ways: namely, first, by mproving an existing stretch of turf until it is level and smooth enough, second by leveling the ground.

preparing the soil, and sowing grass seeds; and third, by laying fresh turf. Of these the former is of course the simplest; but as the requisite piece of grass land is rarely available, particulars for preparing it are seldom required. In improving such a piece of turf care should be taken to remove all weeds or coarse grasses, and to freely use the spirit-level. To raise hollow places the turf should be cut out, lifted, and fine soil placed underneath until the proper height has been obtained, when the turf should be replaced and well beaten down with the flat side of a spade. On the other hand, small mounds should be removed by taking the soil away from under the grass, some fine mould being placed underneath the turf before it is replaced. To prepare a court for sowing seeds the same instructions may be followed as for making a turf-laid one, except that the seed will be sown instead of the turfs laid. Take care that the seed is good by purchasing from a first-class seedsman, and, when ordering, it will be well to state what sort of soil is to be sown. By far the larger number of courts are made by laying fresh turfs.

When preparing the ground for a court, it is desired to level a portion measuring 100 x 50 feet, which allows an ample margin; but for the playing portion itself only 78 x 36 feet is necessary. If economy must be strictly considered only the latter need be carefully prepared, but it is better to have the whole done if possible.

HOW TO MARK OUT A COURT



As a double court practically includes every line to be found in a single court, it is best to take first the measure for the latter. Having determined the position of your net, plant in the ground, in the line chosen, two pegs, 27 feet apart (a. the points A and B in the diagram). Then take two measures and attach their respective ends to the pegs A and B. On the first, which will measure the diagonal of the court, take a length of 47 ft. 5 in.; on the other 39 ft.; pull both taut in such directions that at these distances they meet in a point C. This will give one corner of the court. At that point F, 21 feet from B, put in a peg to mark the end of the service-line. The other corner, D, and the other end of the service-line G, may be found by interchanging the measures and repeating the process. The same measurements on the other side of the net will complete the exterior boundaries of the court. By prolonging the base-line 4 ft. 6 in. in each direction, and joining the four new points thus obtained, we can make the side-lines of a double court. It only remains to mark the central line. This is done by joining the middle points of the service-lines. If a double court alone be required, the interior side-lines need not be prolonged to meet the base-lines. Remember that in all cases the net-posts must stand at a distance of three feet from the side-lines.

DIAGRAM OF SINGLE AND DOUBLE COURT.

For a court where a single or double game can be played, the size is 78 feet in length by 36 in width, 4½ feet inside the side lines, and parallel with them are drawn the service lines. See diagram above.

The Wright & Ditson Rackets

¶ The frames are made from selected material and by experts who thoroughly understand the use of them, and so far as human skill can determine the frames are as perfect as it is possible to make them.

¶ The gut used in our rackets is the very best that it is possible to procure. Our expert makes a special trip abroad every year in order that we may get the first and best selection, and we believe that our rackets are strung with the choicest gut that the world produces, and by stringers who have made a study of stringing rackets for years.

¶ We do all it is possible for anyone to do to make perfect rackets. Gut, however, is sensitive to atmospheric changes, and owners of rackets should take all the precautions they possibly can to prevent their being exposed to dampness, keeping the racket in a waterproof cover and in a press. Yet no matter how careful a player may be, the natural wear on a racket, particularly on dirt courts, often causes the strings to give way. The expense of repairing this break (as it occurs through no defect of the racket), should be borne by the player.

GUARANTEE

¶ We guarantee our rackets only DURING THE YEAR OR SEASON IN WHICH THEY ARE SOLD, and any tennis racket bearing our Trade-Mark, and weighing 13 ounces or over, in which the frame breaks, will be replaced if said break is due to any defect in same; or, if the gut breaks through any defect, we will repair the racket free of cost upon receipt of the DEFECTIVE racket, provided it is sent to us by mail or express prepaid, carefully TAGGED with the owner's name and address, and the nature of the claim.

The Ward & Wright Racket

Style A
With Extra Center Strings

THIS racket has been made according to the special instructions given by Beals C. Wright and Holcombe Ward, former Champions of the United States in singles and doubles. The Ward & Wright Racket has been modeled on lines for the most modern style of play, and the phenomenal success of the racket during the past three seasons is most gratifying.

Scientifically, the Ward & Wright is the strongest racket made. It will stand restringing better than any other style racket. The frame is made of specially selected ash. The gut used in stringing is the best imported, noted for its life and driving qualities.

When Ordering Kindly State the Weight and Style—A or B—Desired

Each $8.00

Style B
Regular Stringing

The Ward & Wright Racket is made in two styles of stringing. Style A, containing extra center strings, which has become very popular with a great many players, especially ground stroke players, and style B without the extra center strings, making it less rigid, and consequently better for volleying.

The Ward & Wright Racket is made in weights from 13 to 15 Ounces

For players who like an extra large handle Ward & Wright we have them in weights 14, 14 1-4, 14 1-2, and 15 ounces only.

We play tennis; are in constant touch with every player of note; the best players permit us to make and name Rackets after their models, and it ought to be plain why the Wright & Ditson Rackets are the most practicable. It pays to get the best.

THE

It is tightly strung with the best quality Imported gut, made in weights 14, 14½ and 15 ounces.

Mr George Wright.
C. Wright & Ditson.
Boston.
Mass

My dear Mr Wright

I shall be very glad to have you name a Lawn Tennis Racket after me and sincerely hope it will be a success.

I am to-day sending you a racket which I have used in my Championship Matches.

This is slightly different from the Men's racket as I am quite sure from the experience that a lady needs a lighter and smaller racket.

Very truly yours
May G. Sutton

THE "SUTTON" RACKET is named after the Lady Champion of the world, with her approval, as mentioned in her letter printed on this page. Made of best selected wood and gut, same as our other leading rackets, with the proper size handle for ladies. Used by Miss Sutton in all her championship matches.

WRIGHT & DITSON

The Pim is made only in weights ranging from 13 to 15 ounces.

The Sears Racket

The Sears Racket, made in the latest model, we find to be the strongest and best playing shape yet introduced. The Sears will be strung with fine English gut, and will contain the extra center strings. Made in weights 12½ to 15 ounces.

For double court, 42 x 3 feet. . . . . Each, $8.00

No. 230X. As above, only 33 x 3 feet, for single court. . . . . " 7.00

The Longwood Tournament Net Posts

Newport Net Posts

Made of yellow pine, very strong, finely finished, strictly regulation height, fitted with reel for making the rope tight, and screw eyes in order to lace the net close to the posts, as shown in cut at top of page. Championship Canvas Center Strap

This is a new device for holding center of net at regulation height, 3 feet, and is vastly superior to the ordinary center iron. It is fitted with a turn buckle, with which height of net can be adjusted to a hair. Very desirable for tournament or match games.

No. 3-0. Each, $1.25

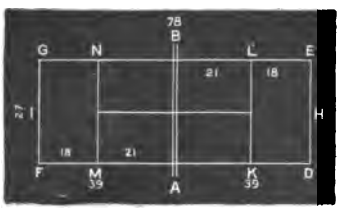
How to Lay Out a Tennis Court with Marking Tapes



THIS illustration shows single court. To make a double court, run parallel line 4½ feet distant from line G to E, and from F to D, and extend base lines H and I to same. The court is 78 feet long and 27 feet wide. It is divided across the middle by a net, the ends of which are attached to two posts, A and B, standing three feet outside of the court on either side. The height of the net is three feet 6 inches at the posts and three feet in the middle. At each end of the court, parallel with the net, and 39 feet from it, are drawn the base lines, D E and F G, the ends of which are connected by the side lines D F and E G. Half way between the side lines and parallel with them, is drawn the half court line I H, dividing the space on either side of the net into two equal parts, the right and left courts. On each side of the net, at a distance of twenty-one feet from it, and parallel with it, are drawn the service lines, K L and M N.
